

FORTY-ONE PEOPLE KILLED IN WRECK

Two Score Excursionists on Lackawanna Road Lose Their Lives and Sixty Are Seriously Injured When Passenger Train Crashes Into an Express—Engineer Failed to See Signals.

Corning, N. Y., July 4.—Westbound Lackawanna passenger train No. 9, from New York, due to arrive at Corning at 4:47 A. M., composed of two engines, a baggage car, three Pullmans and two day coaches, in the order named, was demolished at Gibson, three miles east of Corning at 5:25 o'clock this morning by express train No. 11, due at Corning at 5:10 A. M. Forty-one persons were killed and between 50 and 60 injured. Many of the victims were holiday excursionists bound to Niagara Falls, who had boarded the train at points along the line.

The wreck was the worst in the history of the road. The cause, according to Engineer Schroeder, of the express, was his failure to see signals set against his train. The morning was foggy and he said he could not make them out.

The wrecked train stood on the main track, blocked by a crippled freight train. There was no flag out. The signals which Engineer Schroeder declared he couldn't see were just around the curve.

The flying express plunged past them and crashed into the rear of No. 9, bringing death to nearly two score of its passengers.

Schroeder had taken No. 11 at Elmira 15 minutes before. It was a few minutes late. The stretch of track from Elmira to Corning is fitted for fast running and he was sending his train along at 65 miles an hour. No. 9 was supposed to be half an hour ahead of him. He had no warning until he made out the outline of the rear coach of No. 9 through the fog. Then he threw in the reverse without shutting off steam.

The jerk threw the train off the track and the locomotive plunged to splinter the two day coaches filled with excursionists and tore through the last of the Pullmans. Schroeder said the impact threw him from the cab and landed him on his shoulder on the road bed practically unhurt. The monster locomotive continued its plunge through the middle of the train grinding everything in its path. When finally blocked by the debris, it remained on the road bed in the midst of the wreckage.

Long before the extra freight train No. 61, bound from Buffalo, had pulled through Elmira. When the heavy grade at Gibson was reached a draw head pulled out and No. 61 was crippled. Signals which she put out stopped No. 3. The first engine was undamaged and set at work to push the wreck and the work of getting the injured to the hospitals and the dead to the morgues was impeded by the blocking of the road.

Thirteen of the injured and 10 of the dead were taken to Elmira on a special train. All the other dead were taken to the undertaking rooms in Corning and the other injured were conveyed to the Corning City Hospital. All the physicians in the city were summoned to attend them while ministers and priests were called to administer last sacraments and receive messages from the dying.

Most of the bodies found were badly mangled. The wrecked cars were one heap of wreckage, jamming into each other in telescopic fashion. The last two cars on train No. 11 remained on the track and later were used as temporary hospitals.

At the Corning hospital which has accommodation for only 40 patients, some of the injured had to lay upon the floors until physicians could give them attention.

Those who visited the scene of the wreck before the hospital forces had time to finish the work of removal, witnessed many scenes of horror. One man picked up the ground only to draw back, ashen-faced as his act revealed the body of an unidentified baby only a few months old.

The Rev. John T. Cassidy, a Catholic priest, was one of the early arrivals. He ministered to the injured and performed the last rites for those about to die.

The people of Corning have opened homes to the injured who could not find accommodations at the hospitals or whose injuries were too slight to warrant their crowding other persons from the institutions.

This afternoon the workmen at the scene of the wreck picked up a human skull which was entirely devoid of marks which would indicate whether it came from man or woman.

Engineer Schroeder, of the express, declared there was no flagman to warn him of the presence of the stalled train ahead. Lackawanna officials declare tonight that a flagman had been sent back in the rear of No. 9 when she was held up.

The dead only 20 had been identified tonight. Among the dead was Dr. E. V. Ivy, of Bellevue Hospital, New York; home Suffolk, Va.

The number of identified totals 24, as follows: Armstrong, William M., Hoboken, New Jersey.

Brandies, Mr. and Mrs. Charles, New York city married yesterday and on wedding trip.

Dyak, Herman, Newark, N. J.

Erwin, Mrs. C. E., Chicago.

Zimmer, Mr. and Mrs. John, Scranton, Pa.

Laird, Mrs. William R.; Philip, two years old; Mabel, 5 years old, all of Brooklyn.

PLANS NOVEL CAMPAIGN.

Roosevelt Will Make Appeal to Farmers and Wage Workers.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 4.—A campaign along novel lines was sketched in bare outline tonight by Col. Roosevelt. As the candidate of the new Progressive party for the Presidency, Col. Roosevelt intends to make an appeal largely to the farmer and the wage workers on the ground that neither the Democratic nor the Republican party is attempting seriously in this campaign to deal with the fundamental, economic and social conditions which confront the country.

It is from the farmer and wage earner Col. Roosevelt feels that he has obtained his strength in the past. It is from them that he intends to appeal now. Col. Roosevelt says Senator Joseph M. Dixon, of Montana, who managed his campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination, in all probability will be his campaign manager in his fight at the head of the new party. The Senator's headquarters probably will be in New York.

The former President hopes to lead what he termed a people's government. Throughout his campaign Col. Roosevelt will contend that neither of the great-old parties has shown the adaptability or the inclination to take the point of view of the average man who has to work for his living. This statement he intended to couple with the argument that the Republican and Democratic parties are largely under the influence of bosses and that the time has come for a new national party.

In this connection the high cost of living is in for especial attention. The former President said he intends to deal with it constantly on the ground that, while to some extent it is due to natural economic causes, there are collateral causes which may be reached and remedied.

Col. Roosevelt has been engaged in a study of the platform adopted in Baltimore this week and of the Republican platform, and believes he has found in them valuable campaign material. He said neither of these platforms showed the slightest understanding of the social and industrial movement which is under way in this country. They have taken up, he said, the old politics and the battle cries of other years. At the Baltimore and Chicago conventions, he continued, there apparently was no reflection of the movement which, as he put it, all serious minded men are dwelling upon—the effort to obtain better conditions of life for the ordinary wage worker. It is his intention, he said, to attempt to set forth the conditions which in his opinion are responsible for the high cost of living and the measures which he believes should be undertaken.

"It is going to be a straight, strong, hard fought campaign," he said.

Cleveland, O., July 4.—Johnny Kilbane, feather weight champion, won over Tommy Dixon tonight, their fight going 12 rounds. No decision was rendered by the referee, but the popular and newspaper verdict accorded the Cleveland lad the victory.

HE DIDN'T RESIGN UNTIL REQUESTED

Resignation of A. P. Andrew Repeatedly Demanded Says MacVeagh

STATES HIS POSITION FULLY

Secretary of the Treasury Issues a Statement Setting Forth His Side of the Controversy With His Assistant.

Lancaster, Mass., July 4.—Secretary of the Treasury Franklin MacVeagh in a statement given out here today, declared that the resignation of A. Platt Andrew, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, was not submitted until it had repeatedly been requested by both Mr. MacVeagh and President Taft. The Secretary said that Mr. Andrew pleaded to be retained in the service and brought every possible influence to bear to have the request for his resignation withdrawn.

Secretary MacVeagh, who is a visitor at the home of Bayard Thayer, today received many telegraph and telephone messages from his friends and official acquaintances expressing confidence in his administration of the department and prepared a lengthy statement of his side of the controversy precipitated by Mr. Andrew's letter of resignation.

The statement of the secretary says: "I regret that it seemed necessary to refer to the letters published by Mr. A. Platt Andrew and addressed to the President and to me. The virulence of the attack has probably limited its effects, but apart from the attack upon me he strangely misrepresents a number of the chief men of the Treasury Department to whom I attribute a large measure of the success of the department's work, and seems to deny that anything has been accomplished either by them or any body else. I am obliged, therefore, to restore Mr. Andrew's resignation to its proper light."

Mr. Andrew says he resigned on the account of the controversy in the Treasury Department of which he disapproves. A comparison of this statement with the facts is probably the simplest way to test the animus and the veracity of his letter. He did not resign voluntarily, but was asked to resign and asked to give up and he used every effort to influence possible to get the request for his resignation withdrawn; and pleaded to be allowed to continue in his place. And it was when he had failed to have the request for his resignation withdrawn and because of this that he made his attack—and the controversy followed.

To his topic of Democracy, Senator Bailey adhered for an interesting discussion of the controversy of Thomas Jefferson and his Chief Justice, John Marshall, of Virginia. For the 60 long years that followed there was no question of the integrity of the highest tribunal of justice, declared Mr. Bailey, and until the Dred Scott decision came no question and then came the schism whose results no one has yet been able to declare finished.

Following the Dred Scott decision came the civil rights bill, which aroused in one section of the country a severe case of Africanitis. Senator Bailey, magnetic in his personality, all compelling in his oratory, held close the attention of his hearers.

Reviewing the results of the civil rights bill, the speaker declared that those laws could be sustained it would have led to bloodshed and violence. The people of the South have no prejudice against the negro, he asserted, but the people of the South believe

STATE BAR HEARS SENATOR BAILEY

Lone Star Statesman Entails Hearers at Morehead City Meeting

HIS ADDRESS WAS FEATURE

"Lawyers and Their Relation to the Government" Profoundly Discussed—Other Features of the Sessions Held Yesterday

(By T. H. Lamb.)
Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, N. C., July 4.—Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, of Texas, was the lion of today's session of the North Carolina Bar Association.

The Texas Senator reached Morehead this morning and was given an ovation that might cheer the heart of any man.

The debate in progress when he entered the auditorium of the Atlantic Hotel stopped when the representative of the Lone Star State entered and the applause that greeted him lasted for several minutes. Senator Bailey declined to speak this morning, but tonight he held enthralled an audience that crowded the vast dance hall of the hotel. On the ball room floor hundreds of seats had been placed, and on the balcony surrounding the ball room there were hundreds more. But all these failed to provide for the vast throng that came to hear the solon from the Lone Star empire.

Tonight Referee Welch stands disputed by Rivers and by thousands of spectators in his decision that Wolgast won by a knockout. The Mexican fighter claimed a foul, and in his dressing room he displayed a dented aluminum protector to prove his claim. Wolgast said he was fouled, but tonight in a conference Promoter Tom Carey, of the Pacific Athletic Club, and Tom Jones, his manager, said he did not believe the foul inflicted upon the champion was intentional. Jones said Wolgast stumbled over the feet of Rivers as the latter lay prostrate and fell upon his adversary's knee. Wolgast faltered and was carried to his dressing room.

As Wolgast was taken out the spectators jeered and booed him while they struggled in frantic efforts to get into the ring where Referee Jack Welch stood for a moment in hot altercation with the angered manager and seconds of Rivers.

Welch left the ring after re-asserting that Rivers' claim of foul was unfounded; that he had counted 10 seconds on Rivers and the gong ending his fight for a moment before he had completed the count.

McCarey maintained silence. So did Jones. But Joe Levy, the manager of Rivers, repeated his offer made in the ring to let the little men fight it out at once. The end came suddenly. Both boys, gory from head to belt, their faces matted with sweat, were fighting near the ropes on the north side of the ring when Rivers suddenly collapsed. Wolgast previously in the same round and in several other rounds had struck Rivers rather low and when Rivers went down there was a scandal about it. In an instant Wolgast was down on top of Rivers, groaning. Wolgast rolled off Rivers' body, his features convulsed. Welch immediately began counting and was still counting when he reached down and helped Wolgast to his feet. There were shouts that he had ended the round while Welch was counting. The arena by this time was in an uproar.

Al. Holder, timekeeper of the Pacific Athletic Club, shouted that he had rung the gong.

At this point Rivers, his face convulsed and weakly to his feet and squared away, ready to renew the battle. Welch waved him back.

"That's an outrage, and it won't go here," a dozen angry men who had scrambled through the ropes exclaimed. "It will have to go," the referee replied. "It was fair," and slipped out of the arena.

Welch said tonight: "Wolgast was clearly the winner. Just before Rivers went out, Wolgast had landed a heavy blow to the stomach and followed it with another smash with the right almost to the same place. Neither blow was low. I did not see what happened to Wolgast."

"Rivers did seem as if he had been fouled, but the pictures will show that I was right, and that there was not a foul blow struck."

Welch added that he did not declare the bets off, although a statement to that effect was shouted from the rings while the confusion was at its height.

Betting commissioners stated that payment of bets would be according to the decision of the referee. Many contradicted the statement of Tom Jones that Wolgast had stumbled over Rivers' feet. Rivers said Wolgast went down under the terrific blow to the jaw and he was backed up by several ringside seat holders, although Welch declared no such blow was struck.

The gate receipts for the fight were $41,465. Three hours before the big battle and two hours before the fight preliminary boys appeared, the great octagonal arena almost filled and from numerous entrances the three throngs poured in. The day was cloudless and the new ring just painted a brilliant red, reflected the sun with almost blinding glare.

Joe Rivers spent the morning with his parents, and his father accompanied him to the arena. Wolgast remained in his quarters at the Atlantic Hotel.

AD WOLGAST GETS DECISION IN 13TH.

Declared Winner By Referee But Is Badly Beaten By Joe Rivers

BOTH FIGHTERS CLAIM FOUL

Wolgast and Rivers Go Down in Final Round and Spectators Declare Mexican Is Entitled to the Championship.

Los Angeles, July 4.—For 12 rounds Ad Wolgast and Joe Rivers fought like catamounts in their lightweight championship battle at Vernon Arena this afternoon. In the 13th round there came a blow which landed low and both boys in an instant were sprawling and writhing upon the floor. Wolgast was declared the winner by Referee Jack Welch. Then bedlam broke loose. There was a demonstration, lasting more than half an hour by 11,000 excited spectators, but it was handled throughout by less than a dozen policemen without violence of any sort.

Tonight Referee Welch stands disputed by Rivers and by thousands of spectators in his decision that Wolgast won by a knockout. The Mexican fighter claimed a foul, and in his dressing room he displayed a dented aluminum protector to prove his claim. WILSON WILL GET MAN HE DESIRES

Committee Will Elect Campaign Manager of Nominee's Choosing

MANY MENTIONED FOR JOB

Members of Democratic National Committee Call on Wilson, and Talk About Campaign—Many Assurances of Victory.

Sea Girt, N. J., July 4.—Thirty-five members of the Democratic National Committee called on Governor Wilson at Sea Girt today. They came up from Baltimore on a special train and on the way they talked of a selection of a seasoned manager to run the Governor's campaign. When they left Sea Girt, two hours later, after friendly chats with the nominee, most of them declared that any one whom the Governor might name would be elected to the palace.

As to whom this will be, whether William F. McCombs, Fred B. Lynch, Robert S. Hudspeth or any one of a half dozen mentioned for the place will have the preference, Governor Wilson had not decided tonight. The Governor will meet the committee July 15 in Chicago, stopping off en route probably at Indianapolis to take Governor Marshall, his running mate, with him.

There was much diversity of opinion on the way up from Baltimore among the delegates as to who should be elected chairman.

Mr. Lynch, who managed the campaign of the late Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, and Judge Ware, of Iowa, were frequently mentioned. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that a man who knows the party leaders and the field would make an ideal leader. There was no idea of selecting a man today.

Some of the members of the National committee desired to meet in New York on July 15, for organization, but after conferring with Governor Wilson and after a new canvass of the committee, Chairman Mack announced that Chicago had been selected.

Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, suggested that the meeting be held at French Lick, at his expense.

There was a great deal of surprise as to Governor Wilson's choice as chairman. Mr. Hudspeth, who made the eastern end of the campaigns in 1904 and 1908, and a close friend of Governor Wilson, was frequently mentioned.

"Personally, I am in favor of Mr. McCombs," Mr. Hudspeth said.

"He has managed the Governor's campaign brilliantly, so far, and I see no reason why he should not continue to do so. It is a mistake, I think, to swap horses in mid stream."

A. Mitchell Palmer, another close friend of the Governor, who has been spoken of as chairman, also said Mr. McCombs is his preference.

"If the Governor feels that I can do any good in this respect, I will put aside personal inclinations no matter how great the sacrifice," declared Mr. McCombs, who arrived late today from Baltimore.

Norman E. Mack, the retiring chairman, said that under no circumstances would he entertain a thought of re-election. "Governor Wilson's choice will prevail," he added.

Senator Tillman, Willard Salisbury and John I. Martin also called on the nominee. Senator Tillman, as he took Mrs. Wilson's hand, said: "I am sure you will be the next lady of the White House. I only desire to live long enough to see your husband inaugurated."

Of all the assurances of support which were voiced through the committee and all the confident predictions of election made, none pleased the Governor more than one from Edwin O. Wood, of Michigan.

"I have in my pocket," he told the Governor, "a telegram signed by six of the most prominent Republicans of Detroit. You can't imagine what they say."

"No," laughed the Governor, "I can't say what."

"That they will vote for you."

Governor Wilson announced that Ollie James, who was permanent chairman of the convention, would visit him tomorrow or Saturday, to arrange the date and details for his formal notification of nomination.

Governor Wilson was highly gratified at the stand taken yesterday by Governor Osborn, of Michigan, with regard to Colonel Roosevelt and himself.

"This is very interesting indeed," Governor Wilson said, after reading Governor Osborn's statement. "I just don't know what to say about it, except that it is most significant. Osborn is a man of force; he knows his own mind. What he said gratified me greatly, particularly what he said about me."

Charles W. Bryan, a brother of William J. Bryan, called on the Governor today. He was closeted with the Governor for more than an hour. Mr. Bryan declined to make public the

JOHNSON WINS IN THE NINTH ROUND

Champion Frightfully Butchers Flynn and Police Stop Fight

THE NEGRO DOESN'T HALF TRY

The Pueblo Fireman Falls Miserably as a White Hope—Johnson Offered $30,000 for a Fight With Joe Jennette.

Ring Side, East Las Vegas, N. M., July 4.—The Jack Johnson-Jim Flynn 45-round fight for the heavyweight championship was brought to a close in the ninth round today by the State police.

Capt. Forno, of the State force, personal representative at the ringside of Governor McDonald, declared that it was no longer a boxing contest; that it was a brutal exhibition and that Flynn's foul tactics made its continuance impossible. He jumped into the ring with his deputies and drove the fighters and officials who followed him to the corners. Referee D. W. Smith then announced that Johnson had won and the fight was over.

Flynn displayed no ability throughout the fight. He was cut about the face until blood ran down his breast in a stream. He was utterly helpless from the first round on and by the sixth was deliberately trying to butt the champion's chin with his head. Time after time as Johnson held him powerless in the clinches, Flynn jerked his head upward.

Smith warned him repeatedly, but it did no good. In the seventh he began leaping upward every time he could work his head under Johnson's chin. Flynn's feet were up off the floor time and again through the energy put forth by Johnson and his men. He seemed to leap two feet in the air in frantic plunges at the elusive head above him. Referee Smith forced Flynn back toward his corner a half dozen times. "Stop that butting," he would say, shaking his finger in Flynn's face, "stop it or I'll disqualify you."

"The nigger's holding me," Flynn roared back. "He's holding me all the time. He's heading me like this," and he offered to illustrate on the referee. Smith evaded the blood smeared arms held toward him, and waved the men together again. In the next clinch—it was in the eighth round—Flynn flung himself upward again. Smith jumped between them and warned them once more. "Next time you do it I will disqualify you," he shouted at Flynn, but changed his mind and let him leap again and again in that round and repeatedly in the ninth before the police took a hand.

Through it all the champion was smiling. He evaded Flynn's attacks with the utmost ease, whether the Pueblo man led with his hands or his feet. Johnson's strategy was to let him do what he wished to end the fight and yet ringside opinion was unanimous that he could have put Flynn out at any time he happened to fancy, whether in the first or the ninth round. The champion opened up only once early in the fight when Flynn landed his only good blow, a right to the left hook to the jaw, delivered during a clinch. Johnson appeared nettled at his own carelessness and smashed a right upper cut through Flynn's guard which rocked the white man off his feet. Then the champion smiled again and waved a challenge to the negro.

Apparently Johnson did not attempt to hit hard. He contented himself with a slow, scientific chopping, every blow finding its way through the barricade of gloves and arms behind which Flynn crouched. It was a perfect exhibition of guarding and hitting in the clinches as far as the champion was concerned. Not a blow of Flynn's reached Johnson with any force behind it. Flynn's blows were tossed aside unless Johnson chose to allow him to batter away at his stomach. Johnson smiling the while over Flynn's shoulder.

When the fight was over there was not a mark on Johnson beyond a cut inside his lower lip which bled slightly for a few minutes.

The fight was utterly lacking in interest. It was like a training bout at Johnson's camp outside of the blood Flynn lost. There was not a cheer throughout the nine rounds, and the crowd accepted the action of the police with apparent relief. Long before the end came, ringside opinion seemed to be that Flynn was eager to be disqualified. He was helpless as a child and made no effort to disguise his attempt to do with his skull what his gloves could not accomplish.

Ring Side, East Las Vegas, N. M., July 4.—Jim Flynn's white hope expired in the ninth round of his scheduled 45-round bout with Champion Jack Johnson. Flynn's face was chapped and cut frightfully by Johnson's deliberate blows and in the ninth round Capt. Fred Forno, of the New Mexico State police, pushed his way to the ring and declared the contest ended as a brutal exhibition. For three rounds Flynn had realized his inability to defend himself and frantically tried to butt his way to victory. At times he leaped a foot from the ground endeavoring to crash his skull against the champion's jaw. Time and again Referee Smith warned him to stop and Flynn made no defense.

GOAD CHIEF WITNESS

Second Trial of Claude Allen Resumed Yesterday.
Wytheville, Va., July 4.—The second trial of Claude Allen was resumed this morning, the juror whose sudden illness brought the case to a halt yesterday having recovered sufficiently to take his place in the jury box.
Six witnesses were examined today, all of them being subjected to severe cross-examination in an effort to have them change statements made at the former trial of the defendant when he was found guilty of second degree murder. The chief witness today was Clerk Dexter Goad, of Carroll county, great interest centering in his testimony because of the fact that it is one of the theories of the defense that Goad was responsible for the court room tragedy at Hillsville, Va.

REBELS EVACUATE CAPITOL.

Leave Chihuahua in Face of Federal Cavalry

Chihuahua, Mexico, July 4.—The rebels who had occupied Chihuahua for nearly five months as their capital and base of operations, evacuated tonight in the face of a rapidly-moving column of Federal cavalry, the vanguard of General Huerta's army which drove the rebels from Bachimba, 40 miles south of here today. General Orozco is tonight at Sauz, 30 miles north of here, while the main columns of rebels are encamped at Moctezuma, only 4 miles from the American border. All day long the rebels retreated, Chihuahua, with its nervous colony of foreigners, was left untouched by the rebels. Troop trains were sent through at full speed by General Orozco to prevent looting and disorder.

Preparations were made tonight by the rebels to isolate Chihuahua. Several bridges were destroyed south of here during the day. The rebels will try to mobilize at Juarez, opposite El Paso, Texas, and Casas Grandes, southeast of the American border on the Mexican Northwestern, a strategic entrance to the State of Sonora. Rebel officers say it will be guerilla warfare from now on with most of the operations in the wealthy State of Sonora.

Coburg, Ont., July 4.—Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, widow of Algernon Sartoris, of Warsaw Hants, England, and only daughter of Gen. U. S. Grant, was married today to Frank M. Jones, formerly first assistant Postmaster General of the United States, at her country home here.

WILSON ODDS 10 TO 9 NOW

No Big Wagers Made, But Wall Street Starts It

New York, July 4.—Wall Street began to name odds of 10 to 9 today that Wilson would defeat both Taft and Roosevelt at the November election. These odds were named tentatively, and no wagers of any consequence resulted.

Within a fortnight, however, it is expected that betting sentiment will develop and that definite bets will become daily occurrences.

Calmanera, Cuba, July 3.—It is reported that the insurgent leader Ivohet, who escaped through the cordon of Cuban troops, is now making an effort to reach the naval station to surrender to the American authorities.

NEGRO MURDERED IN WAKE

Joe Cook Taken From Hamlet to Raleigh—State Dentists Have Busy Session—Governor's Servant Dead—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Raleigh, N. C., July 4.—Joe Cook, colored, was brought from Hamlet to day and committed to Wake county jail to await trial for the murder of Will Hubbard, colored, last Sunday night at Wendell. The killing was the outcome of an old feud, Cook having charged that Hubbard mistreated his sister and a negro man who was with her. Cook ran Hubbard some distance and fired at him four times before he mortally wounded him.

A charter was issued today for The Raleigh Custom Shirt Manufacturing Co., of Raleigh, with $50,000 capital authorized and $10,000 subscribed, for the manufacture of shirts, collars, cuffs, underwear and overalls. The corporation has been formed through the efforts of C. R. Towles and fifty odd of the leading business men of the city are stockholders. They include E. C. Hillier, H. E. Litchford, C. B. Barbee and F. B. Arrandell.

Joe Brann, who was waiting man for Governor Russell, Governor Aycock, Governor Glenn, and during several months of Governor Kitchin's term, died last night at his home in Wake county. He had been a victim of tuberculosis for several years. He was nearly 60 years old, was a faithful servant and has friends throughout the State who will regret to learn of his death. He leaves a wife and four children. Joe was an ardent Republican during the Russell administration, but passed to the Democratic side when the Democratic sentiment during his long service for Democratic governors. He had great ideas of the duties and limitations of his position in the executive office of the Governor of the State. During Governor Glenn's administration baseball was especially popular in the executive office, Governor Glenn and his waiting man, too, being regular patrons of the National sport. From the grand stand Joe, the waiting man, could be seen sitting quietly throughout the games with never a manifestation of favoritism for either team. On being asked why he never joined the others on the bleachers in cheering one or another of the players or teams, his serious reply was: "Well, you see, my position is such that I shouldn't ought to take sides."

The North Carolina Dental Society got right down to the business of the annual convention today. The first feature being a discussion of "Oral Hygiene," by Dr. J. C. Watkins, of Winston-Salem. Dr. R. M. Squires, of Wake Forest, presented a paper on "The Dentist as a Teacher of Oral Hygiene." Other papers for the morning session were: "The Dentist's Duty to the Public in Oral Hygiene," by Dr. D. S. Caldwell, of Charlotte, and "Dental Education," by Dr. G. C. Vick, of Durham. There were discussions by Dr. Watkins, Dr. J. S. Betts, Greensboro, and Dr. E. J. Tucker, Roxboro, and others.

The afternoon session was devoted to clinics, in which there were demonstrations on special professional subjects by Dr. C. L. Alexander, Charlotte; Dr. E. V. Lawrence, Stateville; Dr. Z. V. Parker, Newbern; Dr. R. B. Adair, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. R. L. Ramsey, Charlotte; Dr. Parker, Charlotte, and Dr. I. W. Jamison, Charlotte.

The glorious Fourth came in for the most elaborate observance in Raleigh that the day has received in years. The fine new Bloomsbury Park was formally opened today with about $20,000 of special attractions and other improvements that make it most attractive place. The Raleigh Country Club had special observance in extra attractions for its members and their visiting friends. These include a big luncheon and a golf tournament during the afternoon between Raleigh and Durham players. There are numbers of excursions here from neighboring towns.

SHOOTING AT DUNN.

Deputy Sheriff Involved—Military Company—Other News Items.
(Special Star Correspondence.)
Dunn, N. C., July 4.—The Dunn military company left last night for Camp Glenn, where they will spend ten days participating in the drilling and practice of the Second Regiment. Capt. J. L. Hines is in command and carried with him.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Monds and Isaac Monds had a quarrel over some money due Monds and in the altercation Monds shot Monds twice in the leg with a pistol. The trouble occurred in the market house and created a good deal of excitement for a few minutes on the streets yesterday morning. Monds was immediately put under arrest and gave a $500 bond for his appearance before the recorder.

State Manager O. P. Shell, of the National Union, will leave in a few days for Macine, Mich., where the annual convention of the National Union will be held this year.

Rev. J. H. Shore was called to Roseboro yesterday on account of the death of his wife's brother, who has been in bad health for some time.

Rev. Frank Lee, of New York, has been visiting friends in town this week. He has just completed his course at the Union Seminary, New York, and a course at Columbia University. He is a Newton Grove boy, son of Mr. Arthur Lee, and brother of our townsman, Mr. Noel Lee. He has accepted a call to Birmingham, Ala.

The Republican executive committee met in Wilmington last Monday, and among other business transacted, recommended to the authorities at Washington the appointment of Mr. Willie E. Wilson as postmaster at Angier.

The shops and mills are shut down today to give the employees the advantage of the holiday. A large number took advantage of the excursion rates to Fugate Springs and Durham.

HE DIDN'T RESIGN

UNTIL REQUESTED

hardly necessary to point out that a man whose grip on his place I could hardly shake loose could scarcely have found his place undesirable or his associations unendurable.

"If Mr. Andrew could represent himself as resigning voluntarily when he was with unusual difficulty forced to resign it, caused no wonder that he would without warrant call his witnesses, a group of important men of the department nearly all of whom immediately contradicted him—and whose immediate assurances to me by telegraph and telephone are among the pleasantest happenings of my official life. No one in the department who has done successful work would, I believe, endorse any of Mr. Andrew's statement."

CAROLINIANS ARE PLEASED

Washington Officials Are Pleased With The Baltimore Choice

Washington, July 4.—The Baltimore fight is over and all Democrats, regardless of whether they favored Wilson, Underwood, Harmon or Clark, are now ready to support Governor Wilson, who was nominated at Baltimore Tuesday.

Every member of Congress and both of the Senators from North Carolina are unanimous in the opinion that Governor Wilson will sweep the country in the Fall elections. It is remembered by many that the Governor lived for a short while in North Carolina. His father, a Presbyterian minister, was pastor of one of the Presbyterian churches at Wilmington and the Governor himself attended Davidson College for a short time. Hence, many North Carolinians feel that the Democratic nomination is a home product and they are going to see to it that he gets the biggest majority in Tar Heeldom that any candidate has received since the war.

The nomination of Governor Wilson was a most excellent one," said Representative Gidger, of the Tenth Congressional district. "He will undoubtedly sweep the country in November. While there may have been some feeling exhibited in the convention, the great masses of Democracy will be in line and march solidly together in November for a victory."

"With the existing conditions, the nomination is the best which could possibly have been made," said Representative Stedman, of Greensboro. "I know Governor Wilson personally. He is one of the foremost men living in the republic and is thoroughly well fitted to combat and remedy the deplorable state of affairs brought about by the crimes of the Republican party."

"The best nomination that could have been made under the circumstances," said Representative Robert N. Page, who does not talk for publication often. "I predict the election of Governor Wilson by a large majority."

Representative Webb could not be found. He is leaving for the State to spend a few days with his family, but it is well-known that the popular Ninth district Congressman will gladly support Governor Wilson.

Senators Simmons and Overman, it is known, took to hand in the Presidential fight, but they will gladly abide by the decision of the Baltimore convention. The senior Senator has already expressed his satisfaction with the Democratic platform. The tariff issues, as expressed by Bryan and O'Gorman are entirely in accord with the views of Mr. Simmons.

Representative Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, received the news of the nomination of the New Jersey Governor without a tremor of an eyelash; likewise, the long distance telephone message from Senator Bankhead that he had withdrawn the Alabama's name from the race.

"In releasing my delegates, no other candidate was advocated," said Mr. Underwood. "My delegates were free to act as they saw fit."

The Underwood forces are proud of the clean fight they have made. No Democrat's integrity or character has been attacked by any one in authority and that Underwood—he is yet a young man—will land in the White House within the next 10 years no one here doubts.

"The best nomination that could have been made," was the way Senator Simmons put it to The Chronicle correspondent. Governor Wilson will surely be elected by a large majority."

STATE BAR HEARS

SENATOR BAILEY

supremely in their racial superiority and no legislation can ever remove that from their minds. "And yet I have lived to see as many as three times the candidate for the Presidency denounced because he named as chief justice of the United States a veteran of the Civil War, a Southerner and a Confederate," was the reference the speaker paid to Col. Roosevelt.

"I am not ready to believe there is wrong in a decision that destroys the American Tobacco trust and the Standard Oil trust," he said.

"Mark my words, if this decision did not destroy these trusts the law will continue until the violators responsible are all in the penitentiaries wearing stripes."

The Sherman anti-trust law as intended to restrain any who contemplated a monopoly in restraint of trade, but was not intended to work a hardship to others, he said. "When ever any corporation or individual is found guilty of violating that law, the court should appoint a receiver, sell the property and turn over to him the proceeds in cash," he declared. "And this and the application of the criminal statutes would suffice," he thought.

The relation of the lawyer to the legislator was the next division of his subject Mr. Bailey took up. Every distinguished name in the history of an American Congress is a lawyer save two, he asserted.

The reference to only Senator Bailey's own history in the United States Senate came with a reference to bills to make it a felony for a lawyer to act as a legislator and an attorney for private interests at the same time. "They tell us a man cannot serve two masters," he said, "and then show their ignorance of the Bible. If you doubt that go read the balance of that sixth chapter of Matthew. The influence of the love of gold or fear of lawyers to speak up, to smite the rich who thus insult you to your face, was another statement. "The people have chosen wisely in the past, and no matter the present distemper they will choose wisely in the future and if the people can wisely choose their own representatives, in God's name, how can they recall their judges?"

In the 22 years of his life in Congress, he had never known five men whom he thought could be bribed to do wrong. "The wrong is not venality in American public life," he said. "It is cowardly. When will the passions of this hour have spent their novel force, or if they do not subside and work this noblest government ever devised, the traducers of the lawyer will be found dawdling at the foot of thrones while the lawyer or his successor will be found upright in the home product and they are going to see to it that he gets the biggest majority in Tar Heeldom that any candidate has received since the war."

The morning session today was given over to a report from the legislative committee and an address by Hon. A. D. Ward, of Newbern, on "The Old Lawyer." This afternoon the lawyers went to Cape Lookout on the revenue cutter Seminole, secured for the occasion through the courtesy of Senator F. M. Simmons.

SEMI-FINALS TODAY.

Atlanta Men Came to Front in Tennis Tourney.

Atlanta, Ga., July 4.—Local tennis cracks came to the front in today's play in the Southern Tennis Association tournament at East Lake. Four Atlanta men are in the semi-finals of the men's singles to be played tomorrow. E. V. Carter, Jr., C. V. Smith and C. M. Charest will play L. D. Scott. In men's doubles Grant and Carter, of Atlanta, will meet Thornton and Smith, also of this city. The match will be played Saturday.

In the ladies' singles Mrs. J. S. Taylor, of Atlanta, earned the right to play Miss Murphy, of New Orleans, the present title holder, by defeating Mrs. T. Perry, of Greenville, S. C.

Mrs. John Mila, and Miss Moe O'Brien, of Atlanta, will meet each other in the finals in the consolation singles tomorrow. The men's consolation singles reached the semi-final stage today.

Key West, Fla., July 4.—Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, received orders today for the third division of the Atlantic fleet, comprising the battleships Georgia, New Jersey and Nebraska, now in port, to proceed north at once. The warships will leave port tomorrow. The Nebraska arrived from Guantanamo today to take on coal.

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

Chicago intimates to Baltimore that nothing is more profitable than a convention that just threatens to split.

Wonderful Cures Reported in Germany.

The use of simple herbs as remedies instead of the more concentrated and usually more dangerous inorganic substances, has been revived very widely of late. In Germany a new school of physicians has arisen which throws out almost a whole of the pharmacopoeia and relies on an adaptation of the method of wild animals in curing themselves. . . . N. Y. World.

It was Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., who first advocated the extended use of some of our native roots, such as: Golden seal and Oregon grape root, mandrake and queen's root, black cherrybark. These are the chief ingredients in Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so well and favorably known for nearly half a century. A harmless cleanser and stomach tonic that nature has provided.

J. D. MATHESON, ESQ.

J. DONALD MATHESON of Ossining, N. Y. says: "I suffered for over five years with what the doctors told me was dilated condition of the stomach, associated with a catarrhal condition of the bowels, and nervous heart. I had tried enough cod, bismuth, gentian, rhubarb, etc., to float a ship and naturally thought there was no cure for me, but after reading what eminent doctors said of the curative qualities of the ingredients of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I gave it a fair trial. Took the 'Discovery' and also the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and can truthfully say I am feeling better now than I have in years. I cheerfully give permission to print this testimonial, and if any 'doubting Thomases' writes me I will 'put him wise' to the best all-around medicine in the country to-day."

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the
WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1879.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at 50 cents per copy, for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary notices, cards of thanks, communications exposing the cause of a political enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, tennis, societies, meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper. Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be made in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local Rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other does not answer. COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Friday, July 5, 1912.

It is time to begin saving for Christ, mas.

The only sham which we are willing to believe in is the shamrock.

We have inserted it into each other, but let's quit before we break it off.

Just as soon as the Democrats quit scrapping the Mexican rebels began anew.

Our idea of a slick article is a man who can side-step the steam roller, climb on it as it passes and run it himself.

If Baltimore likes her new experience in the matter of excitement, she will put in a bid for the National Roosevelt convention.

As one of the strong friends of Dr. Woodrow Wilson, we will say that it is an egregious mistake to presume that he was nominated on account of his looks.

The third-termer is disappointed over the fact that the Baltimore convention nominated a Progressive who will take all the wind out of the sails of the Teddyerats.

Says the Houston Chronicle: "One of the delegates from Texas to the Baltimore convention is named I. M. Broke." The name of a lot of the other delegates is M. E. Too.

A New Jersey book agent has lived to be 100 years of age. It is not complimentary to our people that he wore out enough shoes to start a store and still didn't get rich selling books.

We are glad our candidate was nominated, but we refuse to get gay over the defeat of three strong Democrats who are big enough to be President. They have done as big things as a President can do.

No apologies will have to be made on the stump for the Democratic nominee for President. The explanations that will be made will only go to show the superb character and admirable characteristics of Woodrow Wilson.

Teddy hasn't got any excuse to be a Progressive. He can't be elected on that plea. All Progressives can vote for the Progressive Democratic candidate without coming in contact with the third term prejudice of Americans.

Woodrow Wilson was the very man to save this country from the iniquity of privilege and the menace of third termism. If all men who rebel against special privilege and all who fear third termism unite, there will be a landslide for Wilson on the 5th of next November.

Senator LaFollette did not hesitate to jump on the Rough Rider, but Roosevelt said he had nothing to say in reply. In fact, there was nothing to say. If LaFollette had been vulnerable, the Colonel would have had a showing, but his own record gave the Senator all the advantage.

When our expectations are not realized we are bitterly disappointed. When our hopes are blasted we are overwhelmed with regret and sorrow. However, men of nerve can stand many disappointments and find consolation when their hopes are blasted. It is the man without nerve who relapses into despair.

Mrs. Irene Robertson, of Paducah, a woman lawyer, has filed her own suit for divorce. She prepared her own petition and will present her own case in court. The old man probably knows nothing of the law, but he knows better than to try to argue anything with a woman, especially one who has sifted the evidence and is prepared to cook his goose.

THOSE NOT NOMINATED

The defeat of Underwood, Clark and Harmon for the Democratic nomination in no way effects the fact that they were big enough for the Presidency and were in every way worthy of the nomination. Their eligibility, was the only question, for it was the duty of the Baltimore convention to 7,000,000 Democrats to give them a candidate who had the best chance of winning the independent vote and carrying several of the doubtful States.

In spite of a studied effort to detract from the size of Speaker Champ Clark and to hint that he was leaning towards the interests, he is not only a big man but is as bitter against the interests as any Democrat in this country. There was no wonder that the great Missourian was indignant at the innuendo cast upon him, but, nevertheless, the opposition to him in the big State of New York and his lack of strength in several Northern States seriously affected his eligibility.

It can also be said for Judge Harmon that he was clearly of Presidential size, and that he is in every fundamental respect a sound Democrat. It was not fair to attempt to ally him with the interests, for his course has been consistent and his record one of great distinction and high achievement. For purposes of winning, it was not necessary to underrate Clark or misrepresent Harmon. However, it must have been plain to the convention that the eligibility of Clark, Harmon or Underwood was not of the kind that would have warranted 1,088 leading Democrats to have made them the standard bearer in such a crisis of the party and Nation as this. It was not lack of bigness, but lack of eligibility in one way or another that made it imprudent to nominate them.

All these distinguished and able Democrats will support Woodrow Wilson for President, and as for the Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, here is his pledge: "I will support the nominee of the convention whoever he may be and shall spend my time working for the ticket which will be chosen at the convention." Those were the words of the great Alabama statesman after his manager withdrew his name from consideration by the convention. Quoting what Mr. Underwood said, the Jacksonville Times-Union pays him this deserved tribute:

"The Times-Union quotes from the leader it supported to express its stand. We endorse what Mr. Underwood said. We admire him for saying it and we call on the 29,000 Democrats of Florida who preferred him to all others to the highest position that man can attain to still follow their leader. We preferred Underwood to all others. As a leader he has had no superior in the history of the Democratic party. His record as a man, as a patriot, as a Democrat is without a stain and if the party wins this time it will be more through his work than that of any other man." * * * Hereafter the South will not hang back with an air of inferiority. The ice has been broken and we will yet see a Southern man in the White House. The South presented two candidates this time but Champ Clark's entrance into the race did not so completely break this anti-Southern precedent as Underwood's entrance, for Champ Clark was from a border State, while Underwood was from the far South. Neither won but neither lost because of the fact that he was from the South."

The Times-Union estimate of Underwood is accurate, but it is not quite the correct thing to intimate that the South has hung back with "an air of inferiority." It is not that which has caused the South to make no offer of one of its own statesmen for the Presidency. It has always had as big men as any part of the Union, and it has them today in such men as Underwood and others. The South has never felt any sense of inferiority but it has "hung back" because it has felt that its statesmen were ineligible because of sectional reasons.

NEGLECTED RESOURCES OF WEALTH.

The time is coming when this South Atlantic country will rival California in the commercial growing of figs and grapes. Enterprising men at Charleston, South Carolina, have seen the possibilities in fig growing and a company has been chartered with a capital stock of $50,000 to go into fig production on a large scale.

The new concern is "The Orchards Company," which starts out with a capital of $50,000 and its object is to grow figs and put them on the market in all forms that commerce demands. A specialty will be made of preserved and dried figs, and plants for that purpose will be established on the company's great orchard property.

The company has planned to develop 2,000 acres of land finely adapted to fig culture. The soil and climate are both peculiarly suited to the industry, and experiments made for several years clearly demonstrate the feasibility of the undertaking. There is no reason why it should not be, and we are glad to note the lower South Carolina is to be the pioneer in an industry that is not only attractive but which promises the most complete success.

The 2,000 acre fig orchard of the company is to be planted in five-acre tracts and it is proposed to plant 1,000 trees on each tract. This will furnish an orchard of 50,000 trees, and they are expected to begin producing in about three years. The fig is a rapid grower and great producer, and there is no limit to the demand for either the crated product or commercially preserved and dried figs.

There is no reason to have any doubt about the success of this Charleston fig enterprise, for all the conditions and opportunities favor it. The same can be said of the region about Wilmington, which is capable of producing as fine figs as are grown anywhere in the world. Charleston is going to demonstrate one of the possibilities of our coast region, and we will no doubt be astonished at its success and especially surprised that we have never thought of it before.

However, there are hundreds of other opportunities and unlimited possibilities of which we little dream at present. Time will furnish a more far-sighted and enterprising people than we who do not stop to think of the abundant resources which we entirely overlook or unfortunately neglect. Nevertheless, we can confidently predict that the tidal country of the Carolinas will some day be the greatest fruit growing portion of America. We ought to rapidly forge to the front in the growing of grapes, peaches, figs and all kinds of small fruits. This whole country ought to be full of fruit farms and canneries.

The enterprising men who have incorporated "The Orchards" at Charleston are Messrs. G. D. Altman, of Charleston, and C. M. Griffing, of Jacksonville. Mr. Griffing is secretary of the company, and is a small fruit grower of long and large experience. He has extensive nurseries in Florida, Texas, and other fruit growing sections. These gentlemen have simply discovered a neglected source of wealth for this country. There are hundreds of more to be discovered by the right men.

THE TEDDYCRAT PARTY.

We expect to publish this morning the call for a National convention of Roosevelt's Progressive Party. The call was prepared a few days ago and sent to the committee on organization, so that if it is ratified the call will be issued immediately. The date for the convention will be somewhere about the first of August.

Col. Roosevelt was encouraged to go ahead with his new party because of the apparent lack of harmony manifested at the Baltimore convention. Even after he heard of the nomination of Woodrow Wilson, he declared that he would "continue to stand for the progressive nomination." No doubt a harmonious convention at Baltimore would have deterred the Rough Rider from entertaining a hope for the need of his party. However, he has been misled into believing that the Democratic party is split and that part of it is ready to follow after him. He declares that events in the Democratic as well as the Republican convention demonstrate the need of a new party. He is convinced from the lack of harmony at Baltimore that what went on there for about ten days "has shown the utterly irreconcilable nature of the elements within the Democratic party, elements so irreconcilable as to make it hopeless to expect from them any permanent reform movement along constructive lines."

That is what we get for not meeting at Baltimore and nominating a candidate without having a pitched battle. At the same time, if we had nominated Wilson without a fight, Teddy might have come over to the Democrats and been as much a source of trouble to the party as he has been to Taft. "All's well that ends well."

Chairman Ollie James declared Col. Bryan out of order, but it didn't seem that there was a darn thing the matter with the Colonel.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"Our idea of a cheerful idiot is a man who is satisfied that Democrats can fight each other and finally clean up the Republican party."—Wilmington Star. All very well. But to ever heard of a big battle that was not preceded by some skirmishing.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Delegate Stanchfield, of New York, made a sensational attack on Mr. Bryan Monday, referring to him as "that money-grubbing, selfish, office-seeking, favor hunting, publicity hunting marplot from Nebraska." The convention perhaps would not have discovered that Boss Murphy brought along a genuine jackass if Stanchfield had not brayed.—Webster's Weekly, Reidsville, N. C.

Woodrow Wilson—Paternal ancestry, Scotch-Irish; father, Joseph Ruggles Wilson; mother, Jessie Woodrow; father's vocation, clergyman; time and place of birth, Staunton, Va., December 28, 1856; vocation, educator, politician; college, Princeton (also Davidson, University of South Carolina and University of Virginia law school); wife's name and former residence, Ellen Louise Axson, Savannah, Ga.; children, three daughters; home when elected, Princeton, N. J.; political, Democrat; year of inauguration, 1913; age at inauguration, 57; religious connection, Presbyterian. Not caring to wait upon the World-Almanac of 1913 for these facts, we lay them before our readers now. Woodrow Wilson will be the 28th and probably also the 29th President of the United States.—Charlotte Observer.

A mass meeting was held in the Armory Tuesday evening for the purpose of forming a local branch of the Guardians of Liberty, whose object is said to be to prevent the Roman Catholic Church from destroying the Constitution of the United States. About 1,500 people, mostly men, attended the meeting. What struck us more for-ably than anything else at the Guardians of Liberty meeting was the statement made by Congressman Haines, that in this country there are fourteen millions of Roman Catholics and eighty millions of Protestants, because we wondered why, even if all that was said against the Roman Catholics were true (which we doubt), why should 80,000,000 Protestants be afraid of 14,000,000 Catholics, in a country like our, in which under the Constitution a majority of the people rule?—Delaware County (Pa.) Democrat.

The Panama canal zone has a total working force of 31,095 persons, of whom 13,108 are white and 37,987 are colored. The last report from Colonel Gorgas, the Isthmian sanitary administrator, is a wonderful record of effective work. The number of deaths among the fifty-old thousand was only five, and of these two died from accidents. The death rate among the working force on the isthmus is thus only 8.1 per 1,000. In the United States the average death rate for the whole country is sixteen per thousand, or just about twice as high. It should be added, simply for the sake of accuracy, that among the total population of 150,514 in the canal zone, composed of men, women and children, black and white, the death rate was fourteen per thousand. But not all of these are under the same rigid rules as the actual working force is, and even so, the death rate is small—by nearly 2 per cent. That the canal zone is a tropic country and generally more trying upon foreigners than natives.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

ATTENDANCE FROM CAROLINA.

International Congress on Hygiene at Washington in September.

Washington, July 4.—Preparations are in the making to secure a thoroughly representative attendance of delegates from the State of North Carolina to the Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography which meets in Washington in September. Besides the formal invitation to Governor Kitchin, which went out from the Department of State in the name of President Taft, and which Governor Kitchin has accepted, the mayors and health officers of the principal cities of North Carolina now are receiving special invitations from the headquarters of the Congress in the National Capital.

Copies of the programme also are going out to the municipal officers, as well as other printed matter which sets forth the paramount importance, from the public health viewpoint, of the great assemblage of hygienic experts. Each North Carolina mayor is being asked to appoint one or more delegates, and each municipal health officer is having brought to his attention the benefits which he may expect to receive at the Congress.

Forty-seven States and many American cities already have accepted the invitations to the Congress, while nearly thirty foreign countries will send delegates as official representatives. Twenty-six bureaus of the Federal government will assist in the Congress. The mayors and health officers of the following cities of the State of North Carolina have received the special invitations from the headquarters of the Congress: Asheville, Charlotte, Durham, Elizabeth City, Fayetteville, Gastonia, Goldsboro, High Point, Kinston, Newbern, Raleigh, Rocky Mount, Salisbury, Washington, Wilmington, Wilson and Winston-Salem.

MOTOR BOAT RACE BEGUN.

Five Boats Start From New Orleans to Pensacola.

New Orleans, July 3.—With the Garle and the Fairchild cups as rewards for a hard race, the five motor cruisers entered in the New Orleans Pensacola race started on their course at 7 o'clock tonight from the Southern Yacht Club.

The boats went over the line as follows: Comet, owned by L. A. Murphy, first; Elizabeth, owned by Albert Mackie, second; Violet, owned by Percy S. Benedict, third; Wait and Toss, both owned by Robert C. McLeure, fourth and fifth, respectively. The boats started in quick succession and, with favorable weather should be in Pensacola early Friday.

THANKS OF CONGRESS

Conveyed to Capt. Rostron by House For Saving Lives

Washington, July 1.—The thanks of Congress are conveyed to Captain Arthur H. Rostron and the officers and crew of the liner Carpathia for their rescue of 704 survivors of the Titanic, in a Senate bill passed by the House today. The measure now goes to President Taft for signature. In addition the bill provides for a $1,000 gold medal for Captain Rostron, which in the language of the bill, shall express the high estimation in which Congress holds the service of this officer, to whose promptness and vigilance was due the rescue of 274 women and children and 330 men.

Toombsboro, Ga., July 3.—"Old Bill" Minor, the train robber, and his partner, were captured near here this morning. They escaped from the State prison farm at Milledgeville last week.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug. An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine—double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any first-class druggist in the city of Wilmington under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask any first-class druggist in the city of Wilmington for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

SAYS THAW IS INSANE

State Alienist Says His Delusion Will Crop Out

White Plains, N. Y., July 1.—Dr. Austin S. Flint, the alienist retained by the State to oppose the release of Harry K. Thaw from the Matteawan asylum, explained at the hearing before Judge Keogh today that he had at first regarded Thaw as "a murderer," but later arrived at the conclusion that he was insane.

"Did you see any evidence of insanity on Thaw's part when you first interviewed him?" Dr. Flint was asked by Clarence J. Shearn, Thaw's counsel.

"No, I thought he was a plain murderer," was the reply.

Dr. Flint said his first intimation that Thaw was irrational came when he read Thaw's will and codicil. After studying these papers carefully he went to the then District Attorney Jerome, told him that he was trying an insane man and said that he himself would withdraw from the case, if he desired. The witness declared that Thaw's delusion must crop out in time, although it might be concealed for years.

A PERFECT FOURTH OF JULY

Thousands Spent the Holiday at Seashore Resorts—Athletic Events Interesting—Day Passed Off Very Quietly

Approximately 6,500 people, about 1,000 more than last year, spent a delightful Fourth of July at Wrightsville Beach yesterday and hundreds of others quietly observed the holiday at Carolina Beach, all enjoying a day of restfulness and recreation.

Those who spent the day in the city did so quietly and in their homes, for business was at a standstill. There were no unusual demonstrations, though the air was rent by the explosion of an occasional firecracker yesterday and last night. In the city many flags and gay-colored bunting could be seen, while on the suburban line to Wrightsville Beach and all along the length of the resort many of the hotels and cottages were patriotically resplendent in the National colors.

Ideal from the weather standpoint and unmarred by accidents or boisterous and disorderly conduct on the part of the pleasure-seekers, the day passed off quietly and peacefully; in fact, it could be called a perfect mid-Summer holiday.

Wilmingtonians alone did not make up the vast crowds that thronged the resorts, for all incoming trains yesterday morning brought their hundreds of pleasure-seekers from nearby towns and cities. At Wrightsville Beach the hundreds of Summer visitors turned out from the hotels and cottages and joined the Wilmington people and the transient visitors in quietly but pleasantly celebrating the anniversary of the birth of our Nation—this grand old land of Uncle Sam's.

At Wrightsville Beach there was not an uninteresting minute throughout the day, from the time the first car arrived yesterday morning until the last train pulled away from Lumina last night, and with so many diversified features of amusement and recreation it was almost impossible for one to become bored, no matter what turn his fancy for pastime might take.

In the morning a most interesting yacht race over the course of the Carolina Yacht Club proved a highly entertaining spectacle to hundreds of the visitors, and the maneuvers of the fleet of graceful white-winged craft were watched throughout the length of the course with undivided attention. The results of the yacht race are given in another column.

Immediately after the yacht race dinner was in order and this was a feature that was not the least enjoyable of the day. The splendid hotels, cafes and cottages outdid themselves in furnishing a menu equal to the occasion and success with which their efforts was awarded was attested in the throngs that flocked to the different dining rooms and the satisfaction evinced by all the diners. Others brought their lunches with them and enjoyed dinner in picnic fashion. At Lumina during the dinner hour, under the shade of the great pavilion, many family parties could be seen seated at the tables provided by the Tidewater Power Company for the pleasure and convenience of diners.

Directly after dinner the Lumina orchestra began playing and the beautiful breeze-swept dancing hall was soon the scene of many couples awaying gracefully over its polished floor. The dancing continued all during the afternoon.

Surf bathing was another feature that was enjoyed largely by the visitors. Throughout the entire day the whole beach, from Lumina to the Oceanic Hotel, was dotted with those sporting themselves in the surf or resting on the sands along the edge of the water. At Lumina over 1,000 bathers took a dip during the day, and many more went in from the cottages and hotels all along the beach.

At 3 P. M., the annual Fourth of July Athletic and Aquatic Meet, conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., was started and the different events held the attention of the crowds until nearly 6 o'clock. From the snappy 100-yard dash with which the meet opened to the spectacular canoe and swimming races through the surf, the events were interesting and the keenest rivalry was displayed by the many entrants. There were over 100 entries in the several events this year, more than ever before. Splendid prizes were awarded to the winners of the different races and contests and each winner was heartily cheered as he triumphantly finished and was handed his trophy.

Probably the canoe race through the surf was the most interesting event of the day, for it was highly spectacular. Five canoes, manned by two men each, made the start and only three finished. Of these the third one came in only after it had been overturned, emptied and righted. The other two that started were overturned before they rounded the buoy a quarter of a mile out, and then dropped out of the race.

The swimming race, a quarter of a mile in all, was almost equally as interesting as the canoe race and the winners were heartily cheered as they came in.

The winners of the different events were as follows:

100-yard dash, under 110 pounds—Chas. Jacobs, first, time 12 4/5 seconds, silver cup; W. McIntyre, second, three round-trip tickets; I. Silverman, third, one round-trip ticket.

100-yard dash, 140 to 135 pounds—Avon Blue, first, time 12 2/5 seconds, silver cup; Isaac Grainger, second, three tickets; W. Hashagen, third, one ticket.

100-yard dash, over 135 pounds—Coughenour, first, time 11 2/5, silver cup; Geo. Hashagen, second, three tickets; Geo. Clark, third, one ticket.

Running broad jump, under 110 pounds—C. Jacobs, first, 14 feet 2 and one-half inches; silver cup; R. Morrison, second, three tickets; W. McIntyre, third, one ticket.

Running broad jump, over 110 pounds—Coughenour, first, 19 feet, four inches, silver cup; F. P. Hale, second, three tickets; Geo. Hashagen, third, one ticket.

Sack race, under 110 pounds—J. Schabben, first, silver cup; Fred Hanley, second, three tickets; W. McIntyre, third, one ticket.

Sack race, over 110 pounds—C. Shepard, first, silver cup; R. Strange, Jr., second, three tickets; H. Solomon third, one ticket.

Girls' flag race, under 12 years—Miss Laura Parsley, first, one-pound box Hager's candy; Miss L. Merritt second, three tickets; Miss G. MacMillan third, one ticket.

Girls' flag race, over 12 years—Miss Elva Powell, first, two-pound box Hager's candy; Miss E. Creasey second, three tickets; Miss Sue Hardin third, one ticket.

Potato race, under 110 pounds, eight potatoes four feet apart—H. McIntyre first, silver cup; C. Jacobs second, three tickets; N. Shepard third, one ticket.

Potato race, over 110 pounds—Isaac Grainger, first, silver cup; W. Walker second, three tickets; A. Macomber third, one ticket.

220-yard dash, under 135 pounds—F. Hale, first, time 27 2/5 seconds, silver cup; Isaac Grainger second, three tickets; Rob. Williams third, one ticket.

220-yard dash, over 135 pounds—Coughenour, first, silver cup; Geo. Hashagen second, three tickets; Geo. Clark third, one ticket.

Canoe race, one-half mile—W. M. Lord and Reston Stevenson, first, two silver cups; J. L. Corbett and Geo. Clark second, four round-trip tickets; R. E. Calder and Burke H. Bridges third, one round-trip ticket.

Swimming race, one-quarter mile—R. Davis, first, silver cup; R. Strange, Jr., second, three tickets; Wm. Jones third, one ticket.

The souvenir dance at Lumina last night was easily the largest attended of the season, there being over 300 couples dancing. In addition hundreds attended who did not dance, but contented themselves with watching the dancers and listening to the excellent music. The pavilion was handsomely decorated in the National colors of red, white and blue, the profusion of flags and bunting making a most patriotic and attractive display. Handsome souvenirs, appropriate to the occasion, were awarded to each lady in the grand march. The dance lasted until a late hour.

At Carolina Beach.

The Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association yesterday conducted its second excursion to Carolina Beach, and over 500 people went down to enjoy the Fourth at the pleasant resort. The steamer Wilmington made three trips during the day, carrying a large crowd each time. A number of other Wilmingtonians went on down the river on the steamer Southport, where they witnessed an excellent ball game between the Wilmington Amateurs and the Southport team.

At Carolina Beach music and dancing were in order during the entire day and the young people especially enjoyed this feature. Many families went in order and took their dinners with them, enjoying them in picnic fashion. The last boat reached the city about midnight. The committee in charge of the arrangements for the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association was composed of Messrs. John J. Fredericks, chairman; J. J. Bell, W. A. Furlong and E. H. Hawk.

Several hundred citizens of Southport and points along the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern road took advantage of the regular schedule recently inaugurated over the W. B. & S. to visit Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach for the Fourth. The regular train from Southport yesterday morning, arriving here shortly after 8 o'clock, was crowded, and even the standing room in the aisles of the cars was taken yesterday. They returned to their homes on the afternoon train to Southport.

NEW HARPER STEAMER HERE

The Ella Arrives From New York and Will Ply Between Wilmington and Fort Caswell—Replaces The Madeline

The steamer Ella, purchased by Capt. John W. Harper, proprietor of the Harper Steamer Lines, to replace the Madeline, which was lost off this coast in a storm last fall, steamed gracefully into port from New York Wednesday morning, and is now lying at anchor at the foot of Nun street, awaiting a few finishing touches before entering active service on the Cape Fear.

Pure white in color and graceful in her lines as any swan, the Ella is one of the handsomest steamers ever seen in this port and she will make an excellent running mate for Captain Harper's well-known steamer, the Wilmington, without a doubt the best known boat on the Cape Fear.

The Ella, which was named by Capt. Harper in honor of Mrs. Harper, is 14 feet in length, 17 1/2 feet beam and is equipped with a 12 and a 24-horsepower engine, with 14-inch stroke. The great little craft maintained an average speed of 30 miles an hour all the way down the coast from New York city.

The Ella is brand new and is particularly arranged for handling both freight and passengers. She will ply regularly between Wilmington and Fort Caswell. The vessel has a steel hull and is fitted to go to sea, being a staunch and safe craft. She has accommodations for about 200 passengers. Captain Adkins will probably be in command of the Ella, as Captain Harper will continue to operate his first love, the Wilmington.

As she now stands the Ella is all complete except for one cabin which will be added and the finishing painting. This work will be completed as soon as possible and the pretty little steamer will soon be making her daily runs up and down the river. Captain Harper is justly proud of his handiwork and she is a credit to his line as well as to the port of Wilmington.

ELECTRICAL MEN GATHERING SCARCITY OF TOMATO CRATES

Annual Meeting of the Sons of Jove Brings Many Visitors to Wrightsville Beach—Souvenir Dance to Occur at Lumina Tonight.

Although no formal sessions are to be held until tomorrow, electrical men from all parts of this and surrounding States are arriving at the Oceanic Hotel for the annual meeting and rejuvenation of the Sons of Jove, a fraternity of the electrical profession, and by this evening it is expected that fully 200 members or candidates for membership will have arrived. A number of members arrived Wednesday and yesterday, and they attended the athletic meet and witnessed the yacht race at Wrightsville Beach yesterday, and displayed keen interest in both events. Last night some of the visitors attended the Fourth of July dance at Lumina.

The first event in connection with the gathering of the electrical men will be a souvenir dance at Lumina tonight, given by the Tidewater Power Company, complimentary to the visitors. The dance promises to be largely attended not only by the visiting electrical men, but by other visitors at the resort and people from the city.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the visitors will make a trip through the new plant of the Tidewater Power Company, of this city, which is expected to prove of great interest. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a rehearsal of the degree team. At 6 P. M. the candidates' parade will take place. The rejuvenation of the Sons of Jove takes place Saturday night, beginning at 8 o'clock. At this session an address of welcome will be made by Mr. Chas. N. Evans, president of the Southern National Bank and the Atlantic Trust & Banking Co. Other addresses will be made by D. H. Brainerd, editor of The Southern Electrician, Atlanta; Julius Binford, Jr., of Richmond, East Statesman of Virginia, and other prominent business men. A distinct feature of the evening will be a clam bake, which will conclude the annual gathering.

The details of the programme were arranged yesterday by Mr. Nicholas Lewis Walker, of Raleigh, Statesman for North Carolina, and Mr. J. O. Brock, of this city.

A. C. L. AGRICULTURAL TRAIN

Itinerary Announced Yesterday by Passenger Traffic Manager of The Road—Train Starts Out July 22nd

Mr. W. J. Craig, passenger traffic manager of the Atlantic Coast Line, yesterday announced the itinerary of the Agricultural Train which will be operated over its lines in North Carolina this summer, beginning Monday, July 22nd, and being out until Thursday, August 8th. The train will be operated by the Coast Line under the direction of the A. & M. College, Raleigh, and the United States Agricultural Department, both of which will have a representative aboard.

The farmers will no doubt be deeply interested in the three features that will be demonstrated at each stop made by the train, to wit: Live stock, drainage and improved farm implements. There is as much, or more, room for improved methods on the farms as in other lines of business and the tillers of the soil will doubtless embrace the opportunity afforded them by the Coast Line.

The train will start from Smithfield on the morning of Tuesday, July 23rd, at 11:30 o'clock, exhibiting all the forenoon at that place, and will spend the afternoon at Elm City. Wednesday, July 24th, the train will visit Nashville, Whitakers; July 25th, Scotland Neck and Aulander; July 26th, Gates and Winterson; July 27th, Pataugas and Aurora; July 28th, Ayden and Kinston; July 29th, Goldsboro and Mount Olive; July 31st, Warsaw and Clinton; August 1st, Burgaw and Castle Haynes; August 2nd, Jacksonville and Pollockville; August 5th, Chadbourn and Fairmont; August 6th, Parkton and Laurinburg; August 7th, Steadman and Manchester; August 8th, the tour will be ended at Jonesboro.

At the morning stops the lectures and demonstrations will begin promptly at 9:30 and the afternoon lectures at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. E. N. Clark, agricultural and immigration agent of the Coast Line, and probably other Coast Line officials, and Mr. J. O. Schaub, special agent in Extension A. & M. College, and the United States Agricultural Department, Raleigh, will cover the entire territory on the train.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

Churches of Wilmington Jurisdiction to Meet on July 9th.

The District Conference of the Wilmington District Methodist Church will convene at Maysville Tuesday night, the 9th, and continue through Friday. Rev. J. P. Pate, of Whiteville, will preach the opening sermon. The district includes a whole or part ten counties in this corner of the State. It has 22 pastoral charges with 105 churches, and 8,441 members. The district conference meets annually and consists of all the preachers, traveling and local, and four laymen from each pastoral charge. It is presided over by the presiding elder. The pastors and quite a number of delegates from Wilmington will attend. A most interesting programme has been prepared.

The Choice of A Husband is too important a matter for a woman to be handicapped by weakness, bad blood or foul breath. Avoid these things by taking Dr. King's Life Pills. Truck Growers Around Turkey Having Difficulty in Securing Crates—Fear That Tomatoes Will Go to Waste

A truck grower here yesterday from Turkey, Sampson county, to spend the Fourth of July, stated to a Star representative that owing to a scarcity of crates he fears the major portion of his five acres of fine tomatoes will go to waste. A neighbor having the same number of acres finds himself in the same predicament. At least 1,000 crates are needed for the two truckers at once, he said, and unless they can be had, which seemed to him improbable, this quantity of tomatoes would be an utter loss.

He said that he managed to buy 100 crates at Warsaw yesterday morning and had them sent at once to Turkey and that while here yesterday he tried to get some peach crates, which could be made to answer the purpose, but was unsuccessful. The factories at Magnolia and at Jalyco are unable to supply the crates, he said, on account of the scarcity of labor, and that he had not been able to ascertain the address of any other plants.

He said further that he had a large number of cucumbers to go to waste on account of a crate famine due to the same cause, scarcity of labor. The trucker quoted said that he had shipped 140 crates of tomatoes to New York this season and that he received splendid prices for all, averaging about $1.25 a crate of six baskets to a crate. A small plot of ground, about 20x27 feet, in Bell peppers had already netted him, he said, $49 and further shipments are to be made from the same patch.

Mr. Z. W. Whitehead, editor of the Carolina Fruit & Truckers' Journal, of this city, who keeps posted on all matters pertaining to trucking, was asked last night about the report of the shortage of tomato crates. He said that he had not heard any complaint of shortage, but that he was not surprised, because there has certainly been a shortage of peach crates, persons in South Carolina having written him to aid them in securing something in which to ship their fruit. Scarcity of labor in this instance also is said to have been the cause of the shortage. Mr. Whitehead said that the tomatoes grown in this section of the State were of unusually good quality this year and are commanding good prices on the Northern markets. He suggested that those who are having trouble in securing crates communicate with crate factories at Wallace and Mount Olive, N. C., and Petersburg, Emporia and Suffolk, Va., before abandoning hope of being able to market their crops.

MRS. G. B. PATTERSON DEAD

Wife of Ex-Congressman From the Sixth District—The Funeral Yesterday afternoon's Lumberton Robesonian says:

"Mrs. Patterson, wife of former Congressman Gilbert B. Patterson, of Lumberton, died at 5:30 o'clock at the home of her father, Mr. Jno. P. McNair, in Laurinburg, where she had been on a visit for ten days. She was critically ill only a few hours, though she had not been well for several days. Yesterday morning it was thought that she was well enough for Mr. Patterson to attend court in Lumberton, which he had not done all the week on account of her illness, but later he decided not to come. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock from Mr. McNair's residence and the remains will be interred in Laurinburg.

"Deceased was about 40 years old and is survived by her husband and two children, a son by a former marriage, Henry Evans, about 14 years old, and a daughter about two years old."

WILMINGTON WON YESTERDAY

Team from This City Defeated Southport Nine in Snappy Game

In a snappy and interesting game of baseball the Wilmington amateurs yesterday afternoon won from the Southport team at the latter place, by a score of 3 to 2. The game was witnessed by about 100 people, the majority of them being citizens of Southport and Port Caswell.

The features of the game were the hitting of Boswell, for the Amateurs, and Murphy for Southport, the former allowing only two hits and the latter four; also the splendid all-round playing and brilliant fielding of the Wilmington team. They gave Boswell perfect support and not a single error was chalked up against them. The Southport team made only two errors. Turkey, for Wilmington, played an especially brilliant game at first base.

The batteries for Wilmington were Boswell and Bell, and for Southport, Murphy and Schafer. The two latter compose one of the crack batteries of the Fort Caswell army post.

Baseball at Hilton Park

The baseball team of Wrightsboro and Ashton contested for honors yesterday on the Parsley diamond at Hilton, the former winning by a score of 7 to 5. The features of the game were the good work of Corbett at first, and Janicki, at center, for Wrightsboro, both of whom did splendid work. Janicki pulled down two liners in the ninth which saved the game for Wrightsboro.

ECZEMA ALL OVER BODY.

Extract from letter of a prominent citizen in Maine who suffered torment with eczema all over his body.

"I tried every thing, consulted physicians, specialists, and was about discouraged until I began using HOKARA. My doctor said it would be phenomenal if HOKARA cured me. A few applications quickly relieved, and in a short time HOKARA worked a wonderful cure of my trouble." (Name on request).

If you have any skin trouble, why not get a jar of HOKARA today and see how quickly it effects a cure? Guaranteed by J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., local agents.

Miss Lizette Andrews, of Pensacola, Fla., the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. W. Bonitz, was slightly injured yesterday when she was thrown from a buggy on the Castle Haynes road about five miles from the city. She was riding with her uncle, Mr. John P. Quelch, and Miss Dorothy Quelch, Miss Lillian Quelch and Master Sidney Andrews. The horse became frightened at the prolonged blast from the whistle of a passing freight train, and ran away, throwing the young ladies and children from the buggy. Mr. Quelch soon regained control of the animal. None of the young people were injured except Miss Andrews, and she only suffered a few painful bruises. She will not be confined to her room on account of her injuries.

WOMEN PATIENTS ESCAPE.

Over 400 Removed From Pathological Institute Near New York.

New York, July 3.—While fire was eating its way down from the top floor of the Pathological Institute, a hospital and library building on Ward's island, in the East river, late tonight, over 400 women patients were safely removed from the structure. Excellent discipline was maintained and no one was injured. The three story brick building was completely destroyed.

More than 4,000 patients in other hospital buildings on the island were kept from alarm by assurance that the fire was a slight one.

Washington, July 3.—The Indian appropriation bill amended so as to add about $4,000,000 to the $13,000,000 appropriated by the House, today passed the Senate.

Yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer: "Mr. Joseph G. Brown and daughter, Miss Bessie, left yesterday for Wrightsville Beach. Mrs. Preston Bridges, of Wilmington, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Burke Haywood, has returned home."

Richlands, N. C., July 3.—Mrs. J. H. Aman very pleasantly entertained the Ladies' Aid Society Wednesday evening at her home on Hargett street. The ladies were entertained with a very interesting contest after which guests were invited into the dining room which was presided over by Misses Elizabeth Koonce, Christine Sylvester and Lila Aman and served a salad course. The color scheme which was red and white was carried out in the salad and table decorations, the centerpiece being a mount of handsome red roses. The guest of honor was Miss Lila Maie Aman, who is at home on vacation from the training school of the James Walker Memorial Hospital. At 6:30 the guests left, each one voting Mrs. Aman a lovely hostess.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Mr. A. T. Blake, of Vista, Pender county, yesterday sent The Star several cotton blooms, which he says are among the first in his section.

—The Star is asked by a correspondent at Watha to take notice of the fact that Mr. Thomas Ezzell has some very fine cotton and that he brought to Watha a cotton bloom on the 2nd day of July.

—The public library was closed yesterday, Fourth of July, but will reopen this morning and remain open until 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, when it will close until July 15th while an inventory of the books will be taken. All books now out must be returned by Saturday evening, or the borrowers will be charged extra fines.

OVER 500 CASES.

Enforcing the Provisions of the Food and Drugs Act.

Washington, D. C., July 4.—The vigorous activity in the enforcement of the Food and Drugs Act displayed during the quarter just ended, was today the subject of comment by the Secretary of Agriculture.

In the months of April, May and June, 1912, more than five hundred cases were reported to the Attorney General for prosecution including both criminal prosecutions and recommendations for the seizure of adulterated and misbranded foods and drugs. This number is one-eighth of the total number of cases reported for prosecution since the act became effective on January 1, 1907, is double the number reported by the Secretary to the Attorney General during April, May and June, 1911, and exceeds by more than twenty-five per cent. the number of cases reported during the first quarter of 1912. The number of cases reported was so large that it has been found necessary for the United States attorneys in some of the large judicial districts to make up special calendars of food and drug cases, and set aside several weeks exclusively for the trial of such cases.

Secretary Wilson commended many of the United States attorneys for their diligence in prosecuting the cases. The maximum penalty allowed for first offenses, that of $300, has been imposed on several defendants. The first jail sentences under this statute were imposed during this quarter. Several hundred consignments of food stuffs found to contain filthy, decomposed or putrid material, have been condemned and destroyed after seizure. Noteworthy among cases of this class was the proceedings for the condemnation of about 2,000 cases of sardines found on examination by the Bureau of Chemistry to consist wholly or in part of filthy, decomposed and putrid substances. In this case, after a warmly contested trial, the jury returned a verdict for the government. In a considerable number of seizures, where the offense charged was misbranding only, and the goods contained no substances which were injurious to health, or which were filthy or decomposed, the consignments have been released to the owners after relabeling, on the payment of costs and the filing of bond that the goods will not be disposed of contrary to law.

During the same period several thousand samples of foods and drugs offered for import into the United States were, upon examination by the port laboratories of the Department of Agriculture, found to be adulterated or misbranded. The results of the examination of these samples were communicated promptly to the Secretary of the Treasury, with the request that the consignments be detained with a view to proper labeling in the misbranding cases and the return to the country from which exported of foods and drugs found to be injurious or to contain filth. The number of samples examined by the port laboratories during the quarter ending June 30, 1912, as well as the number of samples found by the port laboratories to be adulterated and misbranded, is far in excess of the number for the same period during the fiscal year 1911.

SMASHUP ON THE TURNPIKE

Negroes With Stolen Car Crash Into Mr. J. N. Brittain's Everett Six. No One Seriously Injured. Made Escape.

Two negroes, one of whom is believed to be Robert Berry, and the other at present unknown, yesterday morning stole Mr. Henry J. MacMillan's Firestone touring car from his garage at his Winter Park residence and proceeded to take a joy ride, winding up by smashing into Mr. J. N. Brittain's Everett six-cylinder car at the point where the road from League Park intersects the Wilmington-Wrightsville macadam road, about 1 P. M., badly damaging both cars and throwing Mr. Brittain out, though fortunately not seriously injuring him.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cottle, of Rose Hill, and Mr. Ernest Cottle and sister, of Willard, passengers in Mr. Brittain's car, were uninjured; and the negroes also escaped without injury. They also have escaped arrest, for although warrants were issued for them immediately and deputy sheriffs have been searching for them, up to a late hour last night they had not been located. When last seen they were rapidly disappearing in the woods alongside the road immediately after the accident. Blame for the accident is placed completely on the negroes, as Mr. Brittain was only running about 12 miles an hour and had his car under perfect control, while the negroes were driving at a rate of nearly 25 miles an hour, and lost control of the machine when the emergency arose. According to the statements of those who investigated the matter, Mr. Brittain avoided a much worse accident by his coolness and presence of mind.

From the descriptions furnished him, Mr. MacMillan identified the negro driving the car as Robert Berry, who at various times has been employed at Mr. MacMillan's home in tending the garden and doing other work on the premises. However, the negro has never been regularly employed by Mr. MacMillan and has never been allowed to drive the automobile. Mr. MacMillan stated last night that he does not see how it was possible for the negroes to get the car as far away from his place as they did, and he expressed wonder that an accident had not happened earlier in the course of the stolen ride.

Mr. MacMillan and his family had gone to Wrightsville Beach, leaving the car in the garage. The negroes evidently went there and took the car out, proceeding up the turnpike to the road that leads into League Park. They turned in here and turned around somewhere along the road, heading back out.

Mr. Brittain was returning with his passengers from Wrightsville Sound, as he drew near the ball park road he saw the other car coming in a cloud of dust. The negroes were going at such a rate of speed that he saw it would be impossible for him to pass the intersection in time to avoid an accident, so he shut off his power and applied his emergency brake, bringing his car practically to a standstill just in front of the intersecting road. Had the negro been a skilful driver, or had he been going at a lower rate of speed it would have been possible for him to turn into the main road and miss Mr. Brittain's car, but he seemed to have lost all control of the machine. His car collided with the left side of the front of Mr. Brittain's car, carrying the latter machine some distance with the force of the impact. Mr. Brittain was hurled from his seat to the ground and Mr. Ernest Cottle was thrown forward against the windshield. The latter was unhurt, but Mr. Brittain was temporarily dazed by his fall. However, he recovered in a few seconds and shut off the power in Mr. MacMillan's car, which the negroes had forgotten to do. In the meantime Mr. Cottle had dismounted and asked the negro who was driving the car what he meant by running into them. The negro replied that he did not know how to stop his machine. As Mr. Brittain and his passengers were taking an inventory of the damage to the cars, someone who had driven up in another car called to them to look out for the negroes. They looked up in time to see them disappearing as fast as they could run in the woods alongside the road.

The damage to Mr. Brittain's car consisted of a hole in the radiator, a bent front axle, fender on the left side badly bent and both headlights broken.

On Mr. MacMillan's machine the right front wheel was broken off, headlights smashed and fenders badly bent, with possibly some damage to the motor. Mr. Bailey Farmer, of the Wilmington Auto Repair Company, took a car out and towed Mr. Brittain's car into the city, also bringing his passengers. Mr. MacMillan's car was left at the roadside last night, with lamps burning, and will be brought to the city today for repairs.

Mr. MacMillan was communicated with and he immediately got in touch with Uncle Sam's mail carriers flying in all directions, transporting mail. People take a wonderful interest in a discovery that benefits them. That's why Dr. King's New Discovery for coughs, colds and other throat and lung diseases is the most popular medicine in America. "It cured me of a dreadful cough," writes Mrs. J. F. Davis, Stickney Corner, Me., "after doctor's treatment and all other remedies had failed." For coughs, colds or any bronchial affection it's unequalled. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at R. R. Bellamy.

EXCITING OPEN YACHT RACE

Spectacular Event Over the Regular Course of Carolina Yacht Club Yesterday Was Won by the Dixie, Time 1:22:53

Probably the most interesting regatta in the history of the Carolina Yacht Club was the open race over the regular club course yesterday morning, which was won by the Dixie, a Wilmington-built boat, sailed by Capt. Donald Parsley, in the excellent time of one hour, 22 minutes and 53 seconds. The Puzzle, Capt. E. A. Metts, took second honors, and the Don Julian, Capt. O. A. Wiggins, captured third place. The latter boat lost the race on account of her handicap, but broke the club record by making the course in the actual sailing time of one hour, 25 minutes and 52 seconds.

The race was witnessed by a large gathering of the club members and by hundreds of Fourth of July visitors on the beach and it held the attention of all from first to last. Nine yachts competed for the honors, but the three sloop-rigged boats captured first, second and third places, the Class A boats finishing behind these.

The race was scheduled to start at 10:45, and promptly at this hour the fleet of six Class A yachts were given the signal. The three sloop-rigged yachts, Dixie, Puzzle and Don Julian were started two minutes later and went over the line with the Don Julian leading, followed at an interval of a minute and 14 seconds by the Puzzle with the Dixie sixteen seconds behind her.

It became evident immediately after the start that none of the Class A boats, in spite of their time allowance of seven minutes and 35 seconds, wouldn't have any chance to win, and that the race would be between the three sloop-rigged boats.

The Don Julian gained from the start and looked a sure winner to those who did not keep in mind the fact that she was compelled to give the Puzzle an allowance of five minutes and 40 seconds and the Dixie six minutes and 53 seconds. Those on the inside soon realized that the race for first place would be between the Dixie and the Puzzle, with the early indications pointing to the Puzzle as the probable victor.

However, on the run into Mott's Channel the Dixie overtook the Puzzle, and on the tack out this time was never headed, defeating the Puzzle by an actual time of 19 seconds, and by one minute and 32 seconds including her time allowance.

This is the first time that the Puzzle has been so decisively beaten, and only the second time under the present racing rules of the club that she has ever been beaten. Great credit is due Capt. Donald Parsley, son of Mr. Walter Parsley, a boy of only 16 years of age. The Puzzle, which was built by one of the best boat builders of the North, has heretofore been regarded as practically unbeatable, and Captain E. A. Metts, who sails her, is regarded as one of the best sailors on the Carolina coast. The Dixie was built in Wilmington, by Mr. Louis Freimuth, one of the foremen of the Wilmington Fire Department, and the victory yesterday reflects much credit upon his ability as a boat builder, as well as upon the seamanship of the youthful captain.

The Don Julian, though defeated by her handicap, broke the club record over the course, finishing in the actual time of one hour, 25 minutes and 52 seconds.

The positions of the boats at the finish, with their net time, was as follows: The Dixie, Capt. Donald Parsley, first, 1:22:53.

The Puzzle, Capt. E. A. Metts, second, 1:24:25.

The Don Julian, Capt. O. A. Wiggins, third, 1:25:52.

LIGHTNING KILLS BRIDE

Cow Also Struck Dead, Falls on the Groom Injuring Him.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 1.—While Mrs. Carl Nord, aged 18 years, stood in a barn door on a farm here today watching her husband milk a cow, lightning killed her and the cow. The cow fell on the man, painfully injuring him.

After the Day's Exertion

Clicquot Club is the most delightful beverage you can find. Its spicy, fresh ginger taste (so unlike pepper "ginger" ales) tempts the jaded palate. It offers a food value and corrective influence superior to any other summer drink; and its sparkle and effervescence make it a pleasing feature of the table.

GINGER ALE

Clicquot Club is made from Carbonated Clicquot Spring water and the best pure, fresh Jamaica ginger, flavored with a dash of limes and lemon. There is not the sting and bite in it that follows the taste of the pepper "ginger" ale; and the slight amount of ginger furnishes just the corrective influence the stomach needs. "Clicquot Club" is non-astringent and beneficial.

Drink "Clicquot Club" and it will cool and refresh you as no other drink can do.

Other Clicquot Club Beverages with the Clicquot flavor and purity:

BIRCH BEER ROOT BEER
SARSAPARILLA LEMON SOUR
ORANGE PHOSPHATE

..Theatrical..

Well, it was indeed a glorious fourth at the Grand Theatre and everybody was more than pleased with the superb offering in pictures and the splendid music by the orchestra with the alms house and pleasant atmosphere of the house. Today—as an aftermath of the Fourth, so to speak—there will be still another great bill in pictures.

The first presentation of an Essanay photoplay will introduce the spectator to "Springtime a Surprise." Briskly animating and thoroughly pleasing, this amusing comedy calls for giggles, chuckles and roars of laughter until the last turn of the crank. "The Spirit Awakened" will be another feature picture. It is a Biography and gives the story of a Christian and a renegade.

The girl, her father and invalid mother to keep their small farm which is mortgaged. The mortgage falls due and gathering together their earnings, they find the sum not quite enough. On the farm are two laborers, one a Christian, the other a renegade. The renegade imposes upon the Christian boy, regarding him without spirit. The boy learns of the family's need and gives him a mite which increases their store sufficiently to pay off the mortgage. The renegade learns of the mortgage money and having victimized one of the young women of the village, decides to get this money and get away. It is now that the Christian boy shows his spirit and after an exciting chase and fight, succeeds in recovering the money.

At the Bijou

Yesterday was certainly a most glorious Fourth for the new Bijou and for the popular theatre's hundreds of devotees. The afternoon and night each brought forth immense crowds, and the afternoon especially found the amusement place a mecca for the little ones. The children crowded the theatre and had a great time. Last night was a record-breaker.

The bill at the Bijou today will, as usual, be a great one but it will be especially marked by the presentation of films in which noted actors and actresses will appear. Another one of the "Broncho Billy" series, which Bijou folks love so well and always receive with high glee, will be a feature. This particular film is called "Broncho Billy and the Indian Maid" and it is the best one of the series yet manufactured. Of course, the well-known actor, G. M. Anderson, appears in the title role and gives a graphic portrayal of the character.

Selig's latest will give an opportunity of not only seeing one, but three star artists in action. Murray, the "Masher" is Selig's freshest comedy of fort and in this film today at the Bijou will be seen Misses Adrienne Kroll and Winnifred Greenwood and Mr. Otis Thayer. The last noted name will hold especial interest for the people of Wilmington, as Mr. Thayer will be recalled as the star appearing in "Sweet Clover," the big New York success presented at the Academy of Music several seasons ago. Mr. Thayer's magnificent work is well remembered by Wilmington theatre-goers. In this film he does clever acting, and helps to make the film a scream for laughter.

The other films on today are also splendid ones, while the music is the latest and the merriest.

FEARED BEING DISSECTED.

Body of Miss Quimby to Rest in Burial-Proof Vault.

New York, July 4.—In accordance with the wishes of Miss Harriet Quimby, who was killed when she fell from her monoplane at the Boston aviation meet, her body will be buried in a burial-proof copper vault this morning in Woodlawn cemetery. The vault was purchased because she had frequently expressed the fear that her body would be taken by physicians for experimental purposes.

When she first took up flying Miss Quimby told her mother, Mrs. William Quimby, 518 West 153rd street, that in the event of her death she wished to have her body cremated. Mrs. Quimby does not approve of cremation and therefore has purchased the vault. Great credit is due Capt. Donald Parsley, son of Mr. Walter Parsley, a boy of only 16 years of age. WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Mrs. C. D. Bell, of Wilmington, is spending two weeks at Wrightsville Beach, a guest at Mrs. Parsley's cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Beck, of Atlanta, Ga., arrived yesterday to spend some time at the Oceanic Hotel. They will be joined today by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pearce, also of Atlanta.

The arrivals at the Hanover Inn yesterday included Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Larkin, Burgaw; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ricks, Ragsdale; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hudson, Chester, S. C.

A large number of persons went outside fishing yesterday from the Oceanic Hotel and all report fine catches of fish. The launch Suwannee and yacht Edwin were in constant demand all day by the devotees of the gentle art.

An unusually large number of people had dinner or supper, or both, at one of the three resort hotels yesterday. The Oceanic, Seashore and Hanover Inn all made special preparations for the Fourth of July patrons. A large number went down from the city and stopped at one of the hotels.

Yesterday's arrivals at the Oceanic included the following: Miss Mattie L. Royal, Roseboro; Joe Weaver, Miss Mary Wilson and O. E. Wilson, High Point; Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Whitfield, Philadelphia; J. H. Schofield, Charlotte; S. O. Bolton, Atlanta; R. W. Livermore and B. W. Townsend, Red Springs; P. W. Best, Goldsboro.

A large party is expected to arrive today from Atlanta and other points in Georgia as well as from points in Alabama. Report yesterday was to the effect that from 100 to 200 people would arrive today over the Seaboard for the resort. While the hotels are comfortably filled at the present they will have no trouble in taking care of the arrivals today.

An event of special interest on the beach tomorrow is the morning children's dance to be given at the popular Oceanic Hotel by Manager Jesse N. Couch, of the hotel, and Mrs. Couch, to which all the children of the resort are most cordially invited. Their parents are also invited to attend and watch the little folks "tip the light fantastic toe." Music will be furnished by the Oceanic orchestra, Mr. John F. Kneisel leader, and refreshments will be served, while attractive souvenirs of the occasion will be given. Dancing will begin at 10 o'clock and continue until noon.

Mr. Joe H. Phinny, of Clinton, S. C., is the first of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity, which meets at the beach next week, to arrive at the resort. He came in yesterday and is a guest at the Hanover. He said that the college men would arrive almost every day now until the opening of the convention, Tuesday of next week. Some 40 or 50 college men are expected to be at the beach for the convention. Some will come from as far west as California. Almost every State in the Union will be represented. It is the 15th annual convention of the fraternity.

After spending two or three weeks most delightfully at the Oceanic Hotel Mr. and Mrs. John J. Woodside and son, Mr. John J. Woodside, Jr., will leave Sunday for their home in Atlanta, where Mr. Woodside is a prominent business man. The family are prominent in both the business and social life of the Georgia metropolis and they have made many friends at the beach, who will regret to learn of their early departure. Mr. Woodside was recently notified that he had succeeded to the title of Sir and he expects to leave in August for England to go through the usual formalities attendant upon the conferring of this honor. Many friends he has made at Wrightsville Beach will hope for him a pleasant voyage, a delightful sojourn in England and a safe return to America in the Fall.

Mr. B. T. Hopkins, the clever local superintendent of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, yesterday gave a complimentary fishing party to all of his agents and employees of the Wilmington district office. The party went out in the yacht Edwin, of the Oceanic Hotel fleet, Capt. Oscar Satter, leaving at 7:30 and returning about 12:30. They made a catch of over 200 pig fish, black fish, red mouth and bream, and all had a most delightful time. Those present were: B. T. Hopkins, superintendent; D. D. Benton, W. N. Robbins, and L. Henderson, assistant superintendents; W. H. Shaw, C. L. Ricketts, W. C. Owen, S. W. Rowan, J. H. Flake, G. O. West, E. L. Avery, E. B. Stanley, R. E. Brown, O. R. Shinn, A. T. Parker, agents; A. T. St. Amant, cashier, and Dr. Chas. T. Harper, medical examiner.

Among the arrivals yesterday at the Seashore Hotel were the following: D. A. Smith, Baltimore; Mrs. Dan Denny and Miss Nan Clark, Harrison, Tenn.; F. G. Tabb, Richmond, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Peacock, Goldsboro; L. F. Whittington, I. R. Williams, and L. Hall, Newbern; G. W. Hammill, Goodyear; P. A. Swartz, Buffalo; Mrs. Carl N. Dunn and Mrs. J. A. King and child, Fayetteville; H. Bernstein, New York; G. W. Anderson, Atlanta; J. W. Kirkpatrick, New York; W. C. Whitlock, Indianapolis; E. E. Deming, Baltimore; H. T. Siebles, Columbia, S. C.; W. Brooks and M. R. Collins, Columbia, S. C.; R. C. MacNeal, Sumter, S. C.; C. E. Bowden, Charlotte; A. M. Secrest, Monroe, N. C.; Ben J. Smith, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Nalls, Richmond; J. H. Pepper, Charlotte; Ben Camper and family, Goldsboro; Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bentz, Florence; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Langhorn, Charlotte; S. C. J. N. Langhorn, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Camp, Franklin, Va.; H. L. Cook, Jr., Fayetteville; C. Sibbs, Chattanooga, Tenn.; G. W. McCarty, J. D. McCarty, Jr., Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. F. Melburn, Johnson City, Tenn.; J. L. Palmer, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Lee, Pollockville; S. J. Lowe, Jr. and R. L. Honeycutt, Concord; J. W. Glenn, Marietta, Ga.; S. O. Bauersfield and son and Mrs. J. L. Lamb, Hamlet; W. V. Tupper, Nashville; Mrs. L. H. Horne and children; and Mrs. E. C. Edwards, Ocala, Fla.

Mrs. O. B. Thomas and Miss O. H. Thomas, Columbia, S. C.; St. Julian L. Springs, Lake Waccamaw; Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Gibbs, Columbia, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hawes and Miss Katie Hawes, Atkinson; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Sessions, Ivanhoe.

AT CAMP GLENN.

Second Infantry Arrived Yesterday Morning—Memphis. Camp Glenn, Morehead City, July 4.—The Second Infantry, N. C. N. G., Lieut. Col. J. Van B. Metts commanding, arrived this morning and immediately went in camp for ten days. The following companies will be in camp: Company A, Tarboro; Company B, Band and Hospital Corps, Kingston; Company C, Rocky Mount; Companies D, E, Goldsboro; Company F, Fayetteville; Company G, Washington; Company H, Clinton; Company I, Edenton; Company K, Wilson; Company L, Lumber Bridge; the crack shot company, Company M, Dunn. Maj. J. S. Poythress, assistant quartermaster general, is on the grounds, seeing that everything is in order for the troops upon arrival. The Major is quite a handsome man, known as "Mr. Banks," with his black and red hand around his arm. Col. Gary having resigned, will be missed this year in camp.

Capt. F. L. Black, commissary, is on the grounds and with Sergeant Monroe they have everything ready to feed the boys: Beef, potatoes, baked beans, rice, bread, ham and bacon, peach preserves and coffee will be on the bill of fare. Capt. A. J. Dougherty, State instructor, is on duty and will instruct the regiment—Capt. A. L. C. Hill, of Kingston, has been detailed as adjutant in place of Capt. Murray. The lieutenant is a fine fellow, and is "onto" his job. Col. Metts, commanding officer of the Second Regiment, is fully capable of the position he holds, and his friends hope to see him elected colonel of the regiment.

The Atlantic Hotel is enjoying a most successful season and the manager, Mr. Allen A. DuBois, of Norfolk, is very popular. If one is not properly cared for it is not his or the fault of the hostess, Mrs. Smith, of New Jersey.

Miss E. L. Smith, of Trenton, N. J., is one of the most popular guests at the Atlantic Hotel. Your correspondent was glad to meet his old friend Mr. W. J. Moore, proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel, who is better known as "Tarrymore," who with his family, is making Morehead City his home. They have quite a number of guests at their hotel.

THE COMMONER'S VIEW.

Bryan Talks of Democratic Chances and Third Party.

Chicago, July 4.—William Jennings Bryan, who stopped in Chicago today on his way to Nebraska, declared that if a third party were formed, Col. Roosevelt might drive some reactionaries Democrats over to President Taft, but with the Democratic ticket and platform Roosevelt could not expect to win over Progressive Democrats. Before leaving Baltimore, Mr. Bryan estimated that Wilson would have a plurality of 2,000,000 over President Taft. When asked today if he still held to that estimate he replied:

"In estimating Wilson's plurality at 2,000,000 I was not counting on a third party. That might reduce the plurality some and yet not much, because many Republicans will vote for Roosevelt who will not be willing to vote for a Democrat and that will largely reduce Taft's vote. Taft will be the contender for the Roosevelt votes, not Wilson."

"On our platform," said Mr. Bryan, "the single term for the Presidency will attract much attention and so the declaration favoring direct primaries. One of the best plans is that declaring for popular election of the National committee, the committee men to be given service elected. This change will prevent holdover committees from organizing conventions."

Asked what he thought of Col. Henry Watterson's prediction that Col. Roosevelt's party would succeed, Mr. Bryan said:

"Mr. Watterson's predictions have not all come true; but if such a misfortune as he predicts should overtake us, I hope that the Lord will give us strength to bear it with more cheerfulness than 'Marse Henry' shows."

Mr. Bryan said that while he thought that either Governor Burke of North Dakota, or Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, would have brought the Democrats more votes than Marshall, the Indiana Governor was a powerful man on the stump and had an excellent record.

AS TO HANDLING COTTON.

Government to Co-Operate With Growers in Marketing Product. Washington, July 4.—That the cotton planters of the South are anxious to co-operate with the Department of Agriculture in the efforts of the government to introduce better methods of handling and marketing cotton, is the report brought to Secretary Wilson by Charles J. Brand and W. A. Sherman, who have just returned from an extended reconnaissance trip through the South and Southwest.

The great weakness of the cotton growing interests," said Mr. Brand, "is their lack of organization in units of sufficient size to enable them to furnish even running sales in commercial quantities. It is hoped to overcome this difficulty through the organization of cotton growers' associations, all of whose members will grow a uniform variety of cotton, which investigations of the department have shown best adapted to their conditions. The department contemplates actual demonstrations in handling and marketing in the most direct manner practicable. 'The New England and Southern spinning interests have expressed their interest in the new work. In the Imperial valley in California, where cotton had been grown commercially only for three years, the growers already have organized. 'Similar organizations are getting together in other States.'"

(Continued from Page One.) topics of discussion, and said his call was largely social. "I convey to Mrs. Wilson," he said, "heartiest congratulations and best wishes from Colonel Bryan's wife." Mr. Bryan said that his brother would doubtless be found on the stump for Governor Wilson throughout the campaign. "A group of enthusiastic Texans brought Governor Wilson as a trophy the Lone Star flag which floated over their delegation at Baltimore."

BOOBY BIRD IS WELL NAMED Most Stupid of All Feathered Creatures, Though Its Eggs Are Pronounced Good.

Doubtless the term "booby," signifying a stupid creature, has been misapplied in some cases, but it correctly describes several varieties of birds of the gannet species common to certain islands of the Caribbean sea. The booby is a small water fowl, and in spring and summer millions of its kind flock to seven little islands some thirty-five miles southeast of Jamaica. The booby bird is so called because of its stupidity, since it has absolutely no fear of man. The islands frequented by these birds are leased to private individuals who derive a large income from the collection and sale of booby eggs. Nearly 60,000 dozen booby eggs were taken from the seven little islands to Jamaica last year, where they were sold at the rate of about $3.25 for a case containing 500.

An American consular officer familiar with the subject states that while booby eggs are only about two-thirds as large as hen's eggs they are but little inferior in quality. There might be a market in this country for the booby product.

Globe trotters are often contemptuous to the less fortunate, but "Nelly Bly's" seems rather an exaggerated case. How painful the news that the poet Browning was a tax-dodger.

What Makes a Woman? One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters gives her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, worn out feelings. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

New York, July 4.—Clement Coffin, a student in the Brooklyn school for the blind, has an amazing faculty of memorizing facts and figures. One of the latest tests given him by his teachers was a census list of the 285 cities of the United States which have more than 20,000 population. After he had gone over the list several times Coffin was found to have committed perfectly the exact figures of population for each city for the years 1910, 1900, 1890 and 1880. In addition to telling the population of these cities, Coffin could reverse the process when the census figures were given and was able to state the city has had that population.

He was a helpless cripple from rheumatism. But he is now well and happy. "I was so sore from rheumatism I could not step on my feet nor hold anything in my hands," writes Mr. Philip J. Cormisley of East Mauch Chunk, Pa., "could not even feed myself with a spoon. But through your helpful medicine, B.B.B., I am now well and happy and able to earn $100 a month on locomotives."

"I suffered for 3 years. I tried several doctors. They failed to help me. I was run down so bad they said I could not be cured. I could find no place on account of my sickness. I wasn't fit for anything whatever. I was almost wearing crutches. And I was only a handrail. After I started to use B.B.B. I gained 25 pounds in two weeks. I now weigh 165 pounds and still gaining."

"He's holding me, he's holding me," he would declare to Smith and in the next clinch he would try it again. When the police interfered Referee Smith, through the announcer, awarded Johnson the fight. Johnson made no serious effort to hurt Flynn at any time during the nine rounds. Apparently he held himself in check even when Flynn's butting tactics were at their worst. Johnson bore not a single mark of the fight beyond a slight cut inside his lower lip.

Bright weather greeted the fight fans who gathered in the fight arena here at 12:30 this afternoon, an hour and a half before Johnson and Flynn entered the ring.

Work on the hastily constructed arena had been completed by the time the first spectators appeared. Carpenters were nailing down the glaring white canvas of the ring floor, placing the three strands of ropes which circled it and were wrapping the corner posts with their covering of bangles.

There was little gossip as to the condition of the men at the ringside. Johnson, it was reported, weighed 212 pounds, but with his drying out expected to weigh 211 when he climbed through the ropes. Flynn weighed 193 pounds at his quarters this afternoon. He expected to enter the ring weighing a trifle over 190.

The extremely light betting down town fluctuated a little around noon. Johnson's reduction of the odds on his $10,000 bet from 10 to 5 to 10 to 4, sent the general betting to 10 to 3.

Flynn's supporters from Pueblo, perhaps 200 in number, and distinguished by white rooster hats, sat together and were prepared to greet their man when he arrived.

At 2:04 official Announcer Tommy Gannon, of Oklahoma City, took the ring to call attention to the "several hundred ladies who have graced this occasion by their attendance," and asked that the spectators remember their presence when it came to shouting comments on the fight. It was the first sign of life at the ringside. Gannon then announced a boy-sized preliminary, four rounds of one minute each, which appeared to be a family affair. The boxes were Kenett Day, weight 58 pounds, and Freddie Day, 62 pounds. "Papa" Day, 200 or over, refereed the fight. The Day family came from Colorado Springs.

Before the men entered Cannon introduced Cass Farver, a huge unknown white hope aspirant. He challenged the winner, that is, of the Johnson-Flynn, not the Day-Day bout.

It was announced that Visitor Brever, of Paris, offered Johnson $30,000 for a 30-round contest there with Jennette.

The officials of the bout (Johnson-Flynn) as announced at the ringside, are: Edward Smith, of Chicago, referee and time keepers of the club, Otto Photo, of Denver, for Flynn; Al Tarnsey, of Chicago, for Johnson (holder of the title, also stake holder), Tom Flanagan, of Kansas City, for Johnson. A telegram addressed to referee, Ringside, was delivered just before the fight. It was signed McMahon Brothers, New York, and was a $20,000 offer for a Joe Jeannette-Johnson match in that city. Another message from New York asked that Johnson be challenged from the ring for Jeannette.

Al. Palsler wired a challenge to the winner, saying he had posted a $5,000 guarantee for a fight in Cincinnati. Luther McCarthy wired Flynn a win or lose challenge. The fight to be in New York it arranged.

Jack Curley, the promoter, was presented to the crowd. Billy McClain, Sam McVey's manager, who had journeyed from the antipodes to witness the contest, was introduced. Among Flynn's seconds in the ring were Referee Smith, then entered the ring and ordered it cleared in order that the battle might begin without delay.

Abe Pollock, of Denver, and Eddie Cochran, of Kansas City, were presented as alternate referees.

At the request of Johnson, his wife was transferred to another box in order to be nearer the champion's corner.

Flynn appeared to be in exceptionally good humor and spent much of the time sauntering about the ring greeting friends.

Flynn, eyeing Johnson's wife, shouted, "Ain't you pulling for me, Mrs. Johnson?"

The champion's wife smiled but said nothing. The principals then donned the gloves. The champion wore the same striped shirt that he had given service in his Reno battle.

Flynn was introduced to the crowd as the "Fighting Fireman of Pueblo." Flynn's early reception was duplicated. Johnson was then presented as the champion heavyweight of the world. His reception was like warm.

The ring was cleared at 2:48 with Announcer Gannon making his final remarks referring to the rules governing the contest.

After the men had listened to these rules time was called at 2:49.

Round One—Will you shake hands Jack? queried Flynn as he opened the battle by rushing into a clinch. "No," retorted the black.

Flynn kept in close, but Johnson easily avoided his attempts and flung a stiff left to the ear. The champion pushed his man across the ring and hooked his left to the ear and a moment later flung a hard short arm jolt to the jaw. Johnson smiled constantly and fought with great care. Flynn backed the negro against the ropes and the champion rewarded him with a right that cut a deep gash under his left eye. Round all Johnson's.

Round Two—Flynn rushed Johnson simply grasped him about the shoulders and held him at bay, all the while grinning like an ape. The champion pecked at the fireman's face with light lefts and as they clinched upper cut twice heavily with rights to the jaw. Johnson toyed with Flynn, twice more shooting right upper cuts to the jaw, one of which sent the fireman's head bobbing. Flynn's mouth bled as he took his seat very much worse during the three minutes of fighting in this round.

Round Three—Flynn cut short a remark of Johnson by twice hooking his right to the jaw. This nettled the black man and he cut loose with short arm upper cuts to the jaw. Johnson bled slightly from the mouth as he emerged from a mid-ring mix-up, but Flynn spat blood in a stream as the champion cut his mouth with a volley of rights and lefts.

Round Four—Flynn rushed in close and was met with the customary rain of right and left upper cuts to the face. John that it seemed as if Johnson was holding himself in check. He shook Flynn with a few stomach taps, scarcely trying to protect his body from Flynn's attacks. Johnson constantly shoved his stomach and invited him to blaze away which convulsed the spectators. Flynn elicited a great cheer when he rushed Johnson to the ropes and planted a solid left to the jaw. The round ended with Flynn's face covered with blood. Johnson's round.

Round Five—Johnson turned his head to the spectators and hardly noticed his white antagonist. Flynn banged away at the stomach, but this time Johnson covered up and shot four lefts to the face in quick succession, varying it with a left upper cut to the jaw. Flynn, at close range sent half a dozen punches on the stomach, but Johnson was smiling and again made no apparent attempt to protect his mid section. Johnson aroused the crowd to merriment by releasing Johnson's hold and clapping his own gloves together like a happy school girl.

"I can't fight while he's holding me," shouted Flynn, protesting to the referee. The round ended then, with Johnson holding a running conversation with his wife and seconds.

Round Six—Flynn butted with his head three times and complained that Johnson made it justifiable by holding him. Flynn was severely reprimanded for deliberately butting the champion. Flynn tried to find a loop hole to stem the beating given him. Johnson dazed the fireman with his speed, landing left and right to the jaw. "He's holding me," was Flynn's cry. Johnson, suddenly, landed a volley of straight left and right punches to the face, flynn bewildering Flynn, then he slapped himself, apparently with a view to prolonging the contest. Flynn's seconds also warned him to cease butting, when he sat down.

Round Seven—Johnson landed fully a rapid fire of right and lefts to the fireman's face and at the same time placed himself in a position to withstand Flynn's butting tactics. "Wait a minute," cried Johnson to a spectator who had shouted for him to end it. Flynn bled profusely from the nose as Johnson beat a tattoo with left and right to that organ.

Flynn failed to land a glove on the champion, the black's defense proving impregnable. Johnson made the blood fairly spurt as he raised blow after blow on his bewildered opponent. There was a drop of blood on Johnson as he took his seat.

Round Eight—Flynn again tried to butt, but was warned. The round was very much like its predecessor with Johnson uppercutting and Flynn biting viciously at the same time losing a world of blood. Flynn was helpless in the champion's hands and for the second time in this round was warned, the referee adding, "Once more and I'll disqualify you." Johnson held the fireman at arms' length.

Round Nine—Johnson held the fireman at arms' length in an attempt to guard himself against the fireman's constant butting. Flynn finally got in close, jumped a foot in the air and landed with the top of his head against Johnson's jaw. Chief of Police Cowles, realizing that the referee seemed loath to end the contest, intervened.

Referee Smith thereupon gave the decision to Johnson. Johnson was given a terrific cheer, while the crowd wended its way out.

MRS. PENNYPACKER PRESIDENT.

General Federation of Women's Clubs Elect Officers.

San Francisco, July 4.—Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, of Austin, Texas, was tonight elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs for the next two years. She received 556 votes to 255 cast for Mrs. Philip Carpenter, of New York. Other officers elected are: first vice president, Mrs. L. L. Blankenburg, Philadelphia; second vice president, Mrs. Samuel B. Sneath, Ohio; recording secretary, Mrs. Harry L. Keefe, Nebraska; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Eugene Kelly, North Carolina; auditor, Mrs. Charles H. McMahon, Utah.

Austin, Texas, July 4.—As a club worker, author and educator, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, the Austin woman who was nominated for the presidency of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, at San Francisco, is one of the best known women in Texas. She has served the National Federation as treasurer and auditor. At present she is chairman of the endowment fund committee. She also has been president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Pennybacker was born at Petersburg, Va., in 1861. She is the daughter of the Rev. J. E. and Martha Hardwick.

NEW FLAG UNFURLED

Washington Spends Quiet Fourth—President Away

Washington, July 4.—The new National flag bearing 48 stars, emblematic of all the States including the recently-admitted Arizona and New Mexico, was flung from all Federal structures in the country and from the American navy throughout the world today. Thirteen stars only will be permitted in the blue square of the flag, that is less than five feet wide, to avoid overcrowding. The red field on the President's flag was changed to blue today, but because of the President's absence only the regular flag fluttered above the White House.

Today was the quietest Fourth Washington has enjoyed for many years. It was a sane celebration enforced to the limit. Tonight there was a pyrotechnical display on the south of the White House and a brilliant illumination of Pennsylvania avenue from the Treasury building to the capitol.

short distance from the arena until after 2 o'clock.

Both fighters weighed in only a few minutes before they entered the ring. Before coming to the arena Wolgast, according to members of his retinue, placed one bet of $1,100 to $1,000 that he would beat out Rivers before the ninth round.

George Scruggs, official physician of the Pacific Athletic Club, examined Wolgast before he left his camp and found him to be in splendid condition. "The appendicitis won't hurt Wolgast," said Dr. Scruggs.

In addition to the $15,000 he receives, win, lose or draw, Wolgast will split with Promotor McCarr a large share of the moving picture proceeds. Rivers, whose share of the purse is $8,000, will not cut in on the "moves." The betting odds still rule 10 to 6 at all times. Apparently there was more Wolgast money in sight than takers.

Tommy Maloney, the English middleweight, and Bob Graham, of Chicago, began the first preliminary at 1:35 P. M.

Maloney was given the decision at the end of 10 rounds.

The second preliminary of 10 rounds was between Pete McVey, one of Wolgast's sparring partners, and Dan Curran, of Los Angeles, who weighed 133 pounds.

Joe Rivers arrived at 2:15 P. M. Wolgast came in shortly afterward. Both men were put on the scales at 2:50.

McVey was given a decision. Cullen was all but out at the end of the fight.

The vast crowd filled every part of the big arena. The diamond belt put up by McCarey for the winner was brought into the ring in its plush case, its gleaming clasps were flourished at the crowd and a yell went up "McCarrey's!"

Rivers was first to enter the ring, climbing through the ropes at 3:24. A great roar greeted his appearance. He was smiling as he passed around the ring, shaking hands with his admirers. To all he appeared in utmost confidence.

"There will be a new champion in one hour or so," he remarked.

Rivers' seconds were Joe Levy, Roger Cornell, Young Al. Kaufman, Willie Rooney and Bill Aldrich.

At 3:26 Wolgast climbed into the ring amid a great cheer. He turned, shook hands with Rivers and went to his corner.

A coin was tossed for corners and Wolgast won, choosing the southwest with the sun at his back.

Wolgast's seconds were Tom Jones, Hebo Dougherty, Pete McVey, Mickenz and Frank Brennan.

Both men were put on the scales at 2:50 and failed to tip the beam at 133. Rivers led the fighting and they clinched. Rivers landed three lefts to the face in quick succession and Wolgast covered. Rivers was much faster and his blocking was better than the clinch.

In clinch Rivers sent in three stiff rights jarring Wolgast. It was Rivers' round.

Round Two

Rivers opened a deep gash in Wolgast's neck. The blood spurted in a stream. Rivers pecked Wolgast 10 times without a return. Rivers put a stiff left to the stomach. Rivers put a stiff right to Wolgast's nose starting a new flow of blood. Wolgast fell short while Rivers never missed once. Rivers' round.

Round Three

Wolgast took a stiff left to the stomach and head. The fighters exchanged fearful rights and lefts. Wolgast missed a right swing and Rivers put in another left to the wind. They fought like tigers. Wolgast went to a clinch and covered. Both were covered with blood. In a clinch Rivers opened the wound in Wolgast's neck. Round even.

Round Four

They clinched and Rivers sent Wolgast's head back with a right. Wolgast clinched, but could not land at close work. Again Rivers rocked Wolgast, but the champion bled in. Wolgast found much difficulty in hitting Rivers. Wolgast was wild. Again he missed and the Mexican put in left and right to the wind. It was Rivers' round.

Round Five

They went into a clinch and both held on. Wolgast put light left to jaw and missed a right. In a neutral corner Rivers put a right to the head and received but a light right to jaw. They stood in the middle of the ring looking at each other. They clinched and Rivers nearly upset Wolgast with a right to jaw. Round even.

Round Six

They clinched. Wolgast missed and was nearly upset again. Then Rivers put stiff left to wind. Another right to the jaw rocked Wolgast, but he bore in. In a clinch Rivers put right to jaw and Wolgast went down. He was up in an instant and they fought like tigers, head to head. It was Rivers' round by a big loss.

Round Seven

Both were cautious. In a clinch Rivers backed the champion to the ropes. Wolgast then sent in left and right to the wind. Rivers covering. In the break both landed light lefts. Rivers then jarrd Wolgast and the champion was wild. Both seemed tired and clinched. Wolgast again hit low. It was Rivers' round.

Round Eight

Wolgast tried with right and left and missed both. Wolgast suddenly rushed and put left and right to the wind, chasing Rivers around the ring. Both seemed content to fight at long range. Both were very tired and slowed down considerably. The round was slightly Wolgast's.

Round Nine

After a clinch Rivers cut in light left to the stomach. Wolgast began to crouch to protect his stomach. Rivers seemed to be resting as he kept away. It was the tamed round of the fight. Wolgast rushed suddenly and put a stiff left to the stomach, making Rivers wince. Wolgast's by a shade.

ed at the bell. Round Wolgast's by a shade.

Round Eleven

Wolgast missed left to wind and Rivers hit him three times without a return. Rivers put a hard left to jaw. Both clinched and nearly rolled out of the ring. Rivers seemed to force the fighting. Wolgast could not hit him hard and clinched. Rivers then stood still and took four or five hard lefts and rights to the jaw but never wincing. He then sent in a hard left staggering the champion. Wolgast's smile disappeared and he seemed very tired. Round even.

Round Twelve

Wolgast sent in a right to the wind, rushing Rivers to the ropes. Wolgast then tried hard to land on the wind, but could not get through Rivers' blocking. Time and again the champion missed, Rivers attempting to follow up his advantage. Both rushed and head to head it was a clinch at the end. Rivers had the better of the mixing. Rivers' round.

Round Thirteen

Rivers rushed. They clinched, both holding on. Wolgast nearly went over from a right to the jaw, but bored right in, putting a left to the wind. "Take your time Joe," shouted Manager Levy to Rivers. "You got him."

Twice Wolgast missed, Rivers putting in lefts to the face. Wolgast was getting wilder than ever, but Rivers kept away.

Wolgast claimed a foul, but it was Rivers who was hit by the foul blow. Wolgast hit the ring, seemingly in great pain. Rivers was suffering agony from the blow struck over the groin. It was a palpable foul on Wolgast's part. Manager Levy told Referee Welch he would continue but Welch immediately disappeared and left the house. It is impossible to learn what his decision was as both sides claim foul.

Both boys were fighting head to head. Wolgast suddenly crouched and sent in a terrific left directly over Rivers' groin. At the same instant Rivers put his right to Wolgast's jaw and the champion went down and was practically out. Rivers fell writing in pain and Referee Welch began to count. Claims of foul were made in behalf of Rivers were not heeded by Welch. The referee picked Wolgast up from the floor and declared him the winner. His seconds had to carry him from the ring. Rivers was lying on the floor, but in a moment arose unaided. The ring was constantly in a semi-riot. Welch seeing the crowd coming announced that Wolgast was the winner and immediately disappeared.

"It was the worst case of robbery in the history of the American ring," said Manager Levy. "Never before have I seen a referee pick up a man and then give him the decision."

The foul blow struck by Wolgast was seen by every man near the ringside. It was the fourth or fifth foul the champion had landed on Rivers. The sum total of all is that Wolgast knew he was whipped and resorted to his foul tactics to save himself. No one connected with Wolgast's camp would say a word and all of them jumped in an automobile and quickly left the pavilion.

The Subject of Debate Between Leading Citizens:

Mr. A.—Of course, all Wilmingtonians are gratified at the success of the American National Bank.

Mr. B.—Their style of advertising appeals to me. Dignified and forceful.

Mr. A.—Yes, and with the vast amount they do, they never reflect on their competitors.

Mr. B.—A strong, healthy, successful bank like the American National Bank is made by just such creditable methods.
